Coaching: I have been involved in swim coaching since 1982. I started as a volunteer while I was stationed in Maryland with the Air Force. I then took on the assistant position when I was stationed in Berlin, Germany (1982-1985). The team in Berlin was an age group program ranging in ages from 9-18. The team included children of other military families. The team traveled to competitions throughout West Germany. My next assignment took me to Oklahoma City where I was an assistant for a small team at a local YMCA (1985-1987). I left the Air Force to complete college and moved to Connecticut where I was an assistant for a small age group program in a small town (1988-1990). I then moved to Indiana to pursue my master's degree and took up the Head Girls swim coach at a local high school and was also the assistant for the Men's program at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology. I then moved to Massachusetts to start my teaching career where I was hired to be the Head Coach for a local YMCA age group (5-18) program. During my 9 years with the YMCA we maintained approximately 110 active swimmers. In my last 5 years with the YMCA we were the local Regional Champions. Also, during this time, I was able to qualify multiple swimmers and relays for YMCA winter and summer nationals. I also inspired many swimmers to swim in college. Unfortunately, my time was interrupted by the crisis of 9/11. I was currently serving in the Air Force reserves but was pulled back to full active duty for almost 2 years.

Personal: I was raised in southern Connecticut near the mouth of the Connecticut River. I entered the Air Force from 1977-1987 (active duty) and 1991 – 2004 Air Force Reserve, retiring in 2004. I have lived in many places. Prior to moving to Florida in 2011, I was living in California where I assisted with a master's swim program. I joined master's swimming in 1990 and have competed in many swims meets. Places that I have lived include, Connecticut, Japan, Maryland, Germany, Scotland, Oklahoma, Massachusetts, Indiana, California and Florida.
