Community Partners Resource Guide

As the proverb goes, “it takes a village to raise a child.” When Broward County Public School began discussing plans to expand eLearning at home to include face-to-face instruction on-campus, this proverb, as it relates to education, became more relevant.

The idea to include community partners as part of the conversation of re-opening schools was the best way for the School District to afford students and families an opportunity to maximize the resources available to them. When approached with the idea to be active participants in this conversation, community partners did not hesitate and jumped right in.

The commitment and hard work from our community partners was evident. Together, District staff and its partners created a “Heat Map” and an “eCatalog” that provide stakeholders with resources for families, including eLearning day care service providers, food distribution locations, behavioral health services, career and job skills, and education enrichment.

We could not be more grateful for the continued support and commitment from our community partners.

With appreciation,

Dr. Philip C. Harris

Program Manager, Recovery | AmeriCorps Recovery Ambassadors Program
Director
