Coach Trevor Best is currently in his third season as the Nova Lady Titans Head Girls Soccer Coach. His soccer coaching experience began in 1998 as a coach within the Kansas City Soccer League and some years later in the Urban Soccer League of Kansas City. While coaching in these leagues an emphasis was placed on developing basic and technical ball handling skills for players ranging from ages 4 to 16 years of age. His interest and skills for the game of soccer were identified and developed during his high school years at The Lodge School, St. John, Barbados. There he was a member of the school's championship Soccer team where he played as a forward and the school's championship Track and Field team as an athlete in the 400m, 200m, Long Jump and 2nd leg of the 4X100m relay.

As head coach, Best has placed an emphasis on developing both a JV and Varsity girls soccer program one athlete at a time while building a team that plays and wins together. He holds coaching credentials from the USTAF and is working to complete the State of Florida requirements for the Accredited Interscholastic Coach (AIC). His coaching philosophy is: "An athlete's character is more important than their talent! My goal is to create well-rounded players on the field, as well as in the community and classroom. I also strive to enhance the soccer talents of my players while developing their leadership skills, self-discipline, and work ethic. The desire to win and to get better while believing in each other is something that I push all our athletes to strive for in our program. "A love and excitement for the game as well as respect for teammates can make any group of young women reach their goals that would otherwise seem impossible" says Best.

Coach Best completed his formal studies at the University of West Indies, Cave Hill Campus, St. Michael, Barbados in the areas of Child Psychology and Guidance Counseling. His goal was to help positively influence young minds to excel beyond their perceived limitations. He is currently a Financial Advisor and runs his own firm Pristine Wealth Management Corporation where he collaborates with leading financial advisory and insurance companies throughout the United States. He is also the Head track and Field Coach at Boca Raton Community High School.

Coach Best is the proud father of 4 beautiful children, 2 boys and twin girls who have all played Soccer and have participated in Track and Field.
