Fixed-Income Sector Outlook – October 2019

Sector	Our Investment Preferences	Comments
COMMERCIAL PAPER / CD		CP/negotiable CD spreads are near historic tights, though securities appear cheap relative to corporate notes.
TREASURIES	Treasury bill supply is expected to increase by over $100 bills.
T-Bill		the fourth quarter.  The Treasury yield curve remains inverted, providing little opportunities to benefit from roll-down.
T-Note
FEDERAL AGENCIES		Federal agency spreads remain near historic tights. Treasuries continue to be attractive relative to agencies.
Bullets		Callables have been underperforming duration-matched bullets as
Callables		redemption activity has been elevated, especially in short lock-out structures.
SUPRANATIONALS		Spreads remain near historical tights; Treasuries have better value.     There may be opportunities to sell at single digit yield spreads before a possible demand-side technical decay into year-end.
CORPORATES	<ul> <li>Tighter credit spreads and a cloudy economic outlook have reduce attractiveness of the corporate sector.</li> <li>Steady demand from foreign investors and a lower interest rate environment, supported by recent FOMC action, are both positive</li> </ul>
Financials
Industrials		the sector.
SECURITIZED		<ul> <li>The AAA-rated ABS sector offers a defensive outlet to credit exposure but has tightened to near multi-year tights.</li> <li>As interest rates have fallen and supply has increased, MBS spreads have widened significantly to a more historic norm. We view this as an buying opportunity.</li> <li>Agency CMBS are an attractive alternative to other government sectors due to their incremental income potential.</li> </ul>
Asset-Backed	● ←
Agency Mortgage-Backed
Agency CMBS
MUNICIPALS		The low interest rate environment should spur refunding activity and increase taxable municipal supply.
