Chief Academic Officer

Dan Gohl - daniel.gohl@browardschools.com

Feel gratitude, if things get delayed it is okay.

Direction of learning and how to meet that expectation has been very varied in last year.

First district schools to close and the last to reopen.

eLearning phase 2

- 75% of our students stayed home
- All assignments stayed on canvas

Spring 2021 Reopening Plan approved December 28th, 2020:

- FLDOE approved BCPS Spring 2021 Reopening Plan:
<http://www.fldoe.org/core/fileparse.php/19861/urlt/Broward-springreopen21.pdf>
- Executive order
  - Not making academic progress
    - ¼ of the kids are in this category
    - Per State, we strongly encouraged these students to return to school through letters and calls
    - 49% of those students are back in school
- eLearning phase 3
  - Teachers are teaching from classroom assuming everyone is back in schools
  - 6k polycom cameras for teachers to utilize – only with teachers' agreement
  - Demonstrations utilizing whiteboards

- Those in classrooms will no longer use teams
  - Those at home still utilizing teams
- Canvas is the core for instructional resources
- Last Tuesday we have seen a higher uptick in kids returning to school
- Ensuring supplemental resources, including 3 on demand tutoring to support students
  - Ask BRIA on student launchpad on Clever and through Canvas
    - Broward County school teachers teaching Broward Kids
  - MECCA – Student diversity organization - Complete student registration: <https://bit.ly/2TYS5FM>
  - SchoolHouse.World – On-demand tutoring from tutors around the world from the folks that built Khan Academy
  - Many campuses have peer-to-peer through Latinos in Action, 5000 Role Models, Young People's Project and similar organizations
- FSA & EOC – the state will be requiring all in person testing
- How are you handling staff shortages?
  - Biggest challenge of the pandemic
  - Contentions and differences are in discussion
  - We have called up full time subs and newly graduated teachers
  - Not seen strong shortage but if you see this please contact your Principal.
- Please clarify your statement of "advocating to the state to suspend accountability of the FSA exam." Does that mean advocating so that it is not a student requirement? Advocating so the FSA scores do not impact the school's grade and/or teacher reviews?
  - Asking for 2 options as we do not see 90% of students in person for May 1st
    - Exams are given but we are not connecting to school grades or teacher appraisals
    - Waive the third grade FSA for promotion and Waive the EOC for HS graduation

Student Assessment and Research

Richie Baum – Update

- What are the consequences of not taking EOC which is 30% of grade?
  - If State continues with accountability, student will receive incomplete grade until they take the exam.
  - This is the graduation testing requirements document: - <http://www.fldoe.org/core/fileparse.php/7764/urlt/GradRequireFSA.pdf>
- Effective immediately, SAT will no longer give the writing exam or the Subject Exams permanently
- Looking into different scenarios but still waiting on State approval
- Currently all IB, AICE & AP exams are in person.
  - <https://apstudents.collegeboard.org/exam-calendar>
    - They provide 4 makeup dates
    - All May 14 tests will also be offered May 18 due to EID.
