EAP reserves the right to change the terms of this notice and to make the new provisions effective for all PHI that it maintains. HOW WILL EAP USE AND SHARE YOUR PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION (PHI)?

Protected Health Information, or PHI, includes demographic and medical information about the past, present, or future health or condition, the provision of healthcare services to you, or the payment for such healthcare. Demographic information could include your name, address, telephone number, social security number and/or any other unique ways of identifying you.

PHI may be information created, received, used, disclosed, and/or maintained by EAP. As an example, EAP may provide your eligibility information to a Health Care Provider, as well as maintain confidential records within the EAP Department.

EAP will use and disclose your PHI for treatment, payment and healthcare operations. (Health care operations are activities compatible and directly related to treatment and payment, including day-to-day office business, administrative, and customer service activities.) Except for the purposes listed below, EAP will use and disclose PHI only with your written permission. You may revoke such permission at any time or request restricted disclosure of your health information. See "Individual Rights" section for the process.

- To a Health Care Provider for purposes of your treatment. For example, if information is requested by your physician, and your physician needs the information to provide you with medical care;
- To a Health Care Provider for purposes of payment. For example, when information is provided confirming your health insurance coverage.
- To Business Associates (including insurance carriers), with written assurances they will protect the information;
- To EAP attorneys, accountants, consultants, and others to make sure that EAP is in compliance with applicable standards and laws and to conduct quality assessments and improvement activities. For example, EAP may conduct an internal review to assure quality assurance or to evaluate the performance of the employee assistance professionals who provided you with these services.
- When necessary to comply with Workers' Compensation or other similar programs.
- For internal investigations and audits by EAP;
- For investigations and audits by the State's Inspector General, Department of Education, or Auditor General;
- For public health purposes including vital statistics, disease reporting, and regulation of health professionals;
- For medical examiner investigations;
- For research approved by EAP;
- To response to court orders and/or subpoenas (SBBC will make reasonable efforts to provide notice to you for an opportunity to seek a protective order);
- For judicial and administrative proceedings; and
- When and as required by law. Restrictions by the most protective law (whether state or federal) will be met.

Unless specified above, EAP will not share your PHI unless you provide your written authorization for the disclosure. This authorization will have an expiration date; additionally, you may revoke the authorization in writing at any time. Most uses and disclosures of psychotherapy notes require written authorization. Uses and disclosures of PHI for marketing purposes as well as disclosures that constitute a sale of PHI require written authorization.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

- You have the right to request restrictions.

You have the right to request restrictions or limitations on the PHI EAP may use and disclose for treatment, payment or health care operations. You also have the right to request a limit on the PHI EAP discloses to someone involved in your care or the payment of your care, like a family member or friend. For example, you could ask that EAP does not share information about your care with a family member, friend or other individual who you indicated is involved in your care. To request a restriction, you must make your request, in writing, to the EAP Department. In your request, you must tell us (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure, or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply – for example, disclosures to your spouse. EAP will consider all of your requests, but is not required to agree to them except as follows: EAP is required to agree to your restriction request: (1) if, except as otherwise required by law, the disclosure is to a health plan for purposes of carrying out payment or health care operations (and is not for purposes of carrying out treatment); and/or (2) if the protected health information pertains solely to a health care item or service for which the health care provider has been paid in full by you or another person. .

- You have the right to request confidential communications. You have the right to request that EAP communicate with you about medical matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask EAP only to contact you by mail or at work. To request confidential communications, you must make your request, in writing, to the EAP Department. We will accommodate reasonable requests.

- You have the right to review and receive a copy of your PHI. With limited exceptions (including psychotherapy notes and information compiled in reasonable anticipation of, or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding), you have the right to inspect and receive a copy of the PHI that may be used to make decisions about your care or payment for your care. Your review of the PHI will be supervised and will be at a time and place that is convenient to you and a representative of EAP. If EAP does not have your PHI, but knows who does, EAP will advise you how you can get the PHI. To inspect and receive a copy of your Protected Health Information, you must make your request, in writing, to the EAP Department. If you request a copy, you may be charged a reasonable fee for the costs of copying and/or mailing. For PHI not maintained in one or more designated record sets (defined as a group of records maintained by or for a covered entity that is the enrollment, payment, claims adjudication, and case or medical management record systems maintained by or for a health plan), we will provide you access to the PHI in the form and format requested by you if it is readily producible in such form and format; or, if not, in a readable hard copy form or such other form and format as mutually agreed to. For PHI maintained in one or more designated record sets, we will provide you access to the PHI in the electronic form and format requested by you, if it is readily producible in such form and format; or, if not, in a readable electronic form and format as mutually agreed to. We will provide the access (review and/or copy) requested within 30 days; however, within that 30-day period, we may notify you of a one-time 30-day extension if necessary. If we request the 30-day extension, we will include the reason for the extension and the date by which the information will be provided.

- You have the right to correct or amend your PHI. If you feel PHI maintained by EAP is incorrect or incomplete, you may request to amend the information. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is maintained by EAP. Your request to correct your PHI must be in writing and provide a reason to support your requested correction. EAP may deny your request, in whole or part, if it finds the PHI:

- Is not maintained by EAP;
- Is not PHI;
- Is by law not available for your review; or,
- Is accurate and complete.

If your correction is accepted, EAP will make the correction and advise you and other appropriate parties about the correction. If your request is denied, EAP will place your statement regarding the corrections with your PHI. You may also send a letter detailing the reason you disagree with the decision. EAP will respond to your letter in writing. Another recourse is to file a complaint, as described below in the section titled Complaints.

- You have the right to receive a list of the individuals and/or agencies with whom EAP has shared your PHI.

All requests for this list (also known as an accounting of disclosures) must state a time period that may not include a date earlier than six (6) years prior to the date of the request. The first list you request within a 12-month period will be provided free of charge. For additional lists, we may charge you for the costs of providing the list. The list will not include:

- Information disclosed to carry out treatment, payment and/or health care operations;
- Information shared with you;
- Information incidental to otherwise permitted or required disclosures, pursuant to applicable regulations;
- Information you authorized to be disclosed;
