Students from Cooper City High School receive awards from Cambridge International, part of the University of Cambridge

February 18, 2022 – 66 students from Cooper City High School have received prestigious awards from Cambridge Assessment International Education, part of the University of Cambridge, to acknowledge their outstanding performance on Cambridge coursework and examinations. The Cambridge Awards celebrate the success of students taking Cambridge examinations around the world. More than a million students study Cambridge International programs in over 160 countries.

At Cooper City High School, 66 students received a Cambridge Scholar Award. Among these awards are 3 Distinction awards, 27 Merit Awards, and 36 Scholar awards.

Vera Perkovic, Cooper City High School Principal said that the awards recognize the talent, dedication and commitment of both students and staff. She said: “I am filled with Cowboy Pride that in our second year of offering Cambridge classes at Cooper City High School -with a large portion of the last two years spent navigating remote teaching and learning- we have achieved this honor. These awards are truly a testament to the resilience and work ethic of our stakeholders. Despite the challenges we have experienced these past years due to COVID, we have been able to continue to provide a quality Cambridge education to our students. I am thankful for the commitment and efforts of our staff and students and congratulate them on these achievements.”

Mark Cavone, Cambridge International Regional Director, North America said: “It is extremely rewarding to congratulate Cambridge students and teachers at Cooper City High School who have worked so hard to achieve tremendous success in Cambridge courses and examinations. The results reflect the enormous talent at Cooper City High School not only amongst students, but also within the teaching profession. Students from Cooper City High School have a bright future ahead of them, and I wish them every success in the future”

As a global organization with a 160-year history and part of the University of Cambridge, Cambridge Assessment International Education partners with schools and districts around the world with a shared goal of making education transformation a reality. High schools across the U.S. now utilize the Cambridge Advanced program. This program is part of an internationally benchmarked program that allows students to earn college-level credit in high school. Cambridge International uniquely provides an instructional system across four stages (Primary through Advanced) aligning rigorous curriculum, pedagogy, and assessment for all students in grades K-12.

About Cambridge Assessment International Education

Cambridge Assessment International Education prepares school students for life, helping them develop an informed curiosity and a lasting passion for learning. We are part of the University of Cambridge.

Our Cambridge Pathway gives students a clear path for educational success from age 5 to 19. Schools can shape the curriculum around how they want students to learn – with a wide range of subjects and flexible ways to offer them. It helps students discover new abilities and a wider world, and gives them the skills they need for life, so they can achieve at school, university, and work.
