The following is a list of 10 Great Opening Lines from Stanford Admissions Essays. The writers of each of these essays were offered admission to Stanford:

1. I change my name each time I place an order at Starbucks.
2. When I was in the eighth grade I couldn't read.
3. While traveling through the daily path of life, have you ever stumbled upon a hidden pocket of the universe?
4. I have old hands.
5. I was paralyzed from the waist down. I would try to move my leg or even shift an ankle but I never got a response. This was the first time thoughts of death crossed my mind.
6. I almost didn't live through September 11th, 2001
7. The spaghetti bubbled and slushed around the pan, and as I stirred it, the noises it gave off began to sound increasingly like bodily functions.
8. I have been surfing Lake Michigan since I was 3 years old.
9. I stand on the riverbank surveying this rippled range like some riparian cowboy – instead of chaps, I wear vinyl, thigh-high waders and a lasso of measuring tape and twine slung over my arm.
10. I had never seen anyone get so excited about mitochondria.
