

PARENT ENGAGEMENT & COMMUNITY SERVICE

Women In Distress of Broward County, Inc. is the only nationally accredited, state-certified, full service domestic violence center serving Broward County, Florida. Our mission is to stop domestic violence abuse for everyone through intervention, education, and advocacy.

The Education and Prevention Department at Women In Distress is committed to providing quality prevention education and resources to all members of the community in order to break the recurring cycle of violence.

PARENT EDUCATION & AWARENESS

We know that youth-centered violence prevention is more effective when we involve people from different areas of a teens life - their teachers, coaches, community leaders and, most importantly, their parents and guardians.

In order to cultivate a stronger network of awareness that will support a violence free future, WID is working to increase parent and adult engagement in teen dating violence prevention through partnering with schools to host Parent Education Nights.

PARENT EDUCATION NIGHTS

Education & Prevention staff will work with your school to host a virtual or in-person event to include a brief TDV & Healthy Relationships presentation followed by a question and answer conversation where parents can learn and ask questions about how to best support their children to have healthy, non-violent relationships and assist them if they are experiencing TDV or unhealthy relationships.

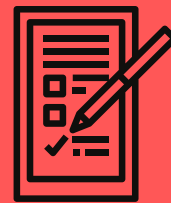

WID is also happy to work with you to meet the needs and goals of your specific group!

Teen Dating Violence Statistics*

1 in 3 teens will experience an abusive relationship.

When tested, a majority of parents (58%) could NOT correctly identify common warning signs of abuse.

Only 33% of abused teens tell someone about it. Usually it is their closest friend.

81% percent of parents believe teen dating violence is not an issue or admit they don't know if it's an issue.
