two fabulous daughters and 10 grandkids. And I have just slid into my sassy, sizzling 70s. So I just had a birthday February the 13th.

MS. STRAUSS: Happy Birthday. MS. CARTER-LYNCH: So I'm excited about being 70. You wake up smarter, trust me. I have been in this arena for the last 20 years. Started out working with the Charter School Task Force for Broward County Public Schools and then I was hired by the charter schools of the State of Florida, the Florida Consortium of Public Charter Schools. But I'm still -- my passion is making sure we take care of all of our children. And that's every child in Broward County. But we do have to make sure we are cognizant and conscious that there are students in areas in this county that need a lot of help and a lot of assistance. So we'll get into that later, but that's not it. And like I said, Ruth Carter-Lynch -- oh and I'm married to Mr. Wonderful. That's another piece. And one thing about me, you will find that I will not use a bucket of words to express a spoonful of thought. So, at the end of the day, Ruth Carter-Lynch.

MR. JABOUIN: Thank you, Ms. Carter-Lynch.

Mr. Turso?

MR. TURSO: Good morning. My name is Peter Turso. I have two children. I have one child that is still in Broward County Public Schools, seventh grader, I have a high schooler that has moved on out of the district to FAU High School and I have been self-employed my entire adult life for the 30 -- 30-something many years. I'm trying to be as brief as my predecessor was. I have an extraordinary passion for making sure that all children absolutely get the best possible benefits from their education. And, unfortunately, it does come down to money, and that's why I'm here. And I want to see every dollar go to the betterment of our children and to the betterment of our educators, without any question. That's all I got. My name is Peter Turso.

MR. MAYERSOHN: Thank you and welcome, both of you.

MS. CARTER-LYNCH: Thank you.

MR. JABOUIN: Agenda Item Number 8, this is our Audit of Internal Funds of 58 schools. This audit was completed by internal funds audit manager Ann Conway and her team.

On the table of contents we have the list of schools that were reviewed. There were no exceptions. I do ask the committee to consider proceeding to transmission in light of our robust schedule. But that is move forth with no exceptions of those 58 schools.

MR. MEDVIN: Comments? Ms. Fertig? MS. FERTIG: Yeah. I'd like to move to transmit with congratulations to the schools for their excellent work.

MR. MEDVIN: Thank you. Second?

MS. DAHL: Second.

MR. MAYERSOHN: Second by Ms. Dahl. Any other comments?

MS. DAHL: I'd also like to thank Dr. Toomer, well, you're not in charge of that anymore, but accordance with SOX standards, which, obviously, were implemented back in 2002 for very good reasons due to the fall of Enron, why -- why weren't they? Because this is an audit of internal controls. We established last meeting that everything points back, or, I'm sorry, two meetings ago, that everything points back to a failure of internal controls within this district. And as I applaud these schools for no findings, it's also a little bit hard to believe, because there's always -- there's never 100 percent. So it just kind of -- my eyebrows are raised a little bit. And so when you say I didn't -- you stated you did it -- you did an audit of internal controls, but you didn't -what standards are you following? I just don't understand.

Page 15

MR. JABOUIN: So we do follow government audit standards, but one of the things to let you know, Ms. Strauss, is, there were no findings to be evaluated in that framework. So had there been a finding, then it would have been evaluated. So some of the audits do have findings and some of them don't. And this one happens to be one where there were not any it is outstanding that this many schools had no audit exceptions.

MR. MEDVIN: Mr. De Meo?

MR. DE MEO: Yeah, I want to repeat what my colleague said, but somebody was busy. More importantly, in each of your reports, Mr. Chief Auditor, there's a description of what internal controls are and different deficiencies and so forth.

Did you have any findings; any deficiencies; significant deficiencies; material weaknesses?

MR. JABOUIN: No. Mr. De Meo, we didn't have any. We don't apply the Sarbanes Oxley standards, if those are the types of standards you're thinking about. But regardless of that we did not have those either.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. Because it said you assessed the internal controls.

MR. JABOUIN: We do. It's just that this is not a SOX location, but I'm -- I'm familiar with those from my days in public accounting and nothing falls into that category.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. Thank you.

MS. STRAUSS: Can I just ask a question?

Yes, thank you. So if you didn't do in findings.

So, obviously, as a governmental entity the Sarbanes Oxley Act, its principles are there. I was, you know, a chief auditor at the time that it was implemented. I know how to apply it, but this is not a Sarbanes Oxley location. But I'm knowledgeable enough to be able to apply it if needed to. But there were no findings in order to evaluate within the SOX framework.

MR. MEDVIN: Dr. Lynch-Walsh?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I -- to piggyback on Mr. De Meo and Ms. Strauss, yeah, and, I'm a little rusty on SOX because I've been out of corporate for a while, and I'm not quite clear on what "this is not a SOX location" means. We could make it a SOX location, I would think, if you mean the entire district. But it sounds like we almost need a motion to apply -- pretend like this is corporate America and apply the most rigorous internal control standards. Because if the PCG report has proven nothing, and from -since sitting on this committee since 2015, lack of internal controls has been a systemic issue repeatedly, and yet we get the same thing. And now we're getting no findings, but my eyebrow also went up because if you loosened the standard by which you are looking for things, which I seem to recall we had that come up a few years ago, you're never going to have findings or exceptions. So, if anything, we should be erring on the side of more rigorous investigation not less.

So I would like to see the SOX standards at our next meeting so we can all review them, because that way -- because that is our role as the audit committee is to oversee the work that the Office of Chief Auditor is doing. And in order to do that we need to evaluate based on information as it pertains to the function of this office. So I would like to see the SOX standards at our next meeting.

MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Fertig?

MS. FERTIG: Yeah. And I don't see any problem with increasing or doing what you're doing, but I do want to comment that these reports once upon a time were so horrible that it was hard to pick -- you couldn't pick one out, you couldn't pick two out, there would be multiple -- there were so many things happening. And so the district has invested a tremendous backgrounds, that we want to see the tougher standards applied moving forward because you will always have less findings if your procedures are less rigorous.

MS. FERTIG: The other question I want to ask is, I know you have a schedule for getting these reports to the state; does that impact it in any

MR. JABOUIN: Yes, I do want to mention that these reports are done in accordance with government auditing standards. The Auditor General expects us to get these done within a certain timeframe. And, also, these happen to not have any findings. Those of you who recall reports that we have had that have had findings, we pursue them very rigorously. So we have 226 schools, these are some that do not have findings. Those that do have findings we -- we report them and we look for action plans that are going to resolve not just the issue but the route cause of the issue. Thank you.

MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Dahl?

MS. DAHL: I just want to say that when I was a principal and we had internal audits and so forth, if there was an area that -- and I don't amount of time and energy in educating schools on what they need to do and trying to correct the things they're doing, which is why I said congratulate the schools. Because there was a time when you'd get this and you'd think I can't bear to go to the audit committee tomorrow because it's going to be so wrong. So I would 8 tell you that when I see a report like this --9 I'm not saying don't do more. We can always do 10 more. But I, personally, when we get to PCG want 11 to comment on the fact that the findings of the 12 last several audits have shown where we can potentially recoup money and I think that's a good investment and I'm glad that we have strengthened our observations. But I -- I, personally, feel that this is such a clean report, do we really want them to go back and do it? And the other question I would ask the chief auditor is I know there's a state -- you do not want them to redo it, Nathalie?

MS. STRAUSS: No. No, no, no. Moving forward.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, we're saying we want to see the SOX moving forward and that -- this is now coming from three people with accounting know if you're still doing this, if there was an area that the auditor thought might be an issue we were always talked to about it. And if it was the first finding or the first time it came up, we were given the opportunity to make sure it didn't show up on the next one, because we were instructed on how we were supposed to do it. And, generally -- generally, we did not find that finding the next time.

So I believe, personally, that the auditors do a very good job with what they're doing because they don't let anything slip by. And I was always pleased after an audit was over because I might have learned something. And just want to say I never had an exception in an internal audit, but I did have discussions with the auditor. So thank you very much.

MR. MEDVIN: Mr. Turso?

MR. TURSO: So I think there's two questions and I'll do both of them at the same time. We're saying that we don't do SOX, so the first question would be, but don't answer it yet, would be, why do we do SOX? But more importantly, if SOX, and, again, I'm not a CPA, I'm an MBA, I'm a consumer behavior and marketing guy in the business path, so I've never been in the game as opposed to Ms. Walsh. My question is, if SOX is used for corporations and we're not using it, yet we're an entity that is, A, spending other people's money, which I feel it's even -- it should be held to an even higher standard than a corporation, but more so we're spending other people's money when it comes to children. So it should go even higher than that.

So I would absolutely agree that whatever we can do to increase the oversight should absolutely be done.

MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Strauss?

MS. STRAUSS: Yeah, so, Mrs. Fertig, I just wanted to clarify one thing that you said. So you said that these reports used to be an absolute disaster. It is my understanding, and, again, I don't have the historical background that you have, but it is my understanding that the bookkeeping, right, and the responsibility has now been centralized and changed to the district with the exception of a few schools that have bookkeepers on site that have been doing a good job and have been able to do it at half of an FTE or whatever it is in their budget, so, you follow every possible procedure to make sure.

But, again, on this particular audit, I don't -- I don't see the exceptions, so I'm hoping we're going to transmit it and then we can go to your motion.

MR. MEDVIN: Dr. Lynch-Walsh?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I seconded it. I seconded Jaclyn's motion, so --

MS. FERTIG: I had a motion on the floor, 10

> MR. DE MEO: Yeah, there's a motion on the floor, but --

MR. MAYERSOHN: Mr. Chair? Mr. Chair, when I have an opportunity --

MR. MEDVIN: Mr. Mayersohn, go ahead. MR. MAYERSOHN: So I think there's a -- I hear Ms. Fertig's comments and I hear Ms. Strauss' comments, as well, and I think there may be a balance. Because these audits are required to the state. There was a while that we were behind and in jeopardy of not complying. So since the state only requires a certain standard, I would say that, you know, to create that, when I say "balance", is that we pick the lesser schools when we do these audits and go to the know, is the centralization, could that have been the effect?

But at the end of the day all I want here is a motion on the floor to ensure that internal control standard auditing procedures, SOX, Sarbanes Oxley, Section 404, is followed. Because I strongly believe that this district has an internal controls problem. There are many things that would have not wasted taxpayer dollars if internal controls across the board were in place, audited and reviewed.

MS. FERTIG: And I don't disagree with you, but let me just say this. Can you hear me okay? Let me say this. I don't believe the centralization of bookkeeping, if you recall, we had an audit within the last year where there were problems with that, and so I don't think that's been a cure-all. I do attribute a lot of this to the area, whatever we want to call them, regional, whatever kind of superintendents they are now, but the people that work with our principals, including the auditing staff who have done a lot to try to educate them on what they need to do. That doesn't mean that it will last for all time or that we don't need to, you know, higher standard and see, you know, what controls are we're having trouble with and what controls need to be addressed. This way it kind of -- it covers us from a standpoint of the compliance issue that we have with the state as well as being a good steward of taxpayer dollars.

MR. JABOUIN: I wanted to add to what Mr. Mayersohn is saying. The district had a finding on the Auditor General reports about being behind on the internal funds audits. So before we move towards a strategy of implementing Sarbanes Oxley 404 we need to make sure that we have completed all of them in time.

It is a project to move to 404 and there are also other things outside of just the audit work that need to be put in the organization. So it is one where publicly traded companies that have to do this -- it's taken them years to move from non-SOX compliant to being SOX compliant.

But, obviously, we can study that in the process of creating a response.

MR. DE MEO: Mr. Chair? MR. MEDVIN: Yes.

> MR. DE MEO: Sorry I opened this up. I share the enthusiasm of my colleagues in their desire to make sure our internal controls are adequately monitored and remediated as appropriate. I was simply asking, based on the report, whether or not there were any deficiencies noted.

I know this is not an audit of internal controls. That is not the purpose of this audit.

So I will ask, do you audit the internal controls over these funds during the year?

MR. JABOUIN: We -- we don't do any separate audits outside these. So these are the audits that we do.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. So I would say that I think SOX is a little ambitious, but I do think there should be an audit of the internal controls over 200 schools' funds. And I agree with my colleagues. Whether it's the SOX standards or the COSO 17 or the 13, you know, I think that's a little overkill. But government standards provide guidance on this and we can always consult our external accountants.

But that was the point of my question, not to ask if you audited the controls, did you have any deficiencies based on your assessment? And then I'm glad my colleagues brought this up, I didn't know we didn't audit these hundreds of bank

MR. MEDVIN: But I'm saying as part of your normal procedure, these 51 schools, did you have certain items that you specifically checked dealing with controls?

MS. CONWAY: Yes. Yes, we do. And they all should have the same system of controls.

MR. MEDVIN: Okay.

MR. DE MEO: You know, I think we're talking two different things. An assessment for generally accepted auditing standards of internal controls is required in every audit. That is not an audit of internal controls. So we are asking for an audit of internal controls at least annually or maybe biannually, maybe the Chief Auditor could recommend that, not simply the assessment, which is fine, what you're doing. Assessment is different than an audit of internal controls.

MR. JABOUIN: So let's also recall that MSL did issue a report on internal controls as part of the reports that the audit committee approved on January 26th, that the board approved on February 15th as well.

One moment while I get the title of that -- of that report.

accounts maybe a thousand bank accounts. And perhaps we should audit the internal controls, that's all I have to say.

MR. MEDVIN: I'd like to add a question to the auditors. As part of your formal programming for audit is there any specific section dealing with internal controls? Is it incorporated into the whole program?

MR. JABOUIN: Ms. Conway, do you need to respond to this?

MS. CONWAY: The system of internal controls for internal funds has been implemented by management and our job is to audit those. They are inherent in every audit we do. That is the main -- if we found a deficiency in the controls that were being used, that would be an exception and brought immediately to your attention.

MR. MEDVIN: Well, as part of your formal audit program, the guide of how you do the audit, is this specifically addressed? I mean, do you have the appropriate tick marks and all that, I remember from my day, as far as the internal controls within your program that you work with?

MS. CONWAY: Yes, we do -- we do do assessments of controls.

MR. DE MEO: I'm guessing the scope of that report eliminated all but 10 percent of the accounts in materiality?

MR. JABOUIN: I'm not sure, but the title, it's very similar to the SOX title. It's independent Auditors Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting and Compliance with Other Matters. So, I mean, obviously, some of this involves me meeting with them to get a better understanding of that, but as far as the -- that being done at a district level, they certainly did that in order to create their -- their report or their opinion.

MR. DE MEO: I'm not sure about that. If you took all the accounts and there are a thousand accounts and the average balance is $100,000, what would that amount to? Is that 10 million?

MR. JABOUIN: I don't know.

MR. DE MEO: And Ms. Marte could probably tell us what the scope and materiality was and if that was indeed part of their scope. I'm guessing not when we have accounts that have hundreds of millions of dollars in them.

MRS. MARTE: Through the Chair? MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Marte?

MRS. MARTE: So you're correct, Mr. De Meo. The bank balances in the -- nearly the majority of the internal funds would be deemed immaterial by an audit firm. I haven't looked at all the balances recently. Our chief financial officer likely has. But we only have perhaps one school, one, that would even have a balance in excess of $500,000. We really don't have that kind of -so I think your assessment is correct, sir.

MR. MEDVIN: Are these funds, all of them in the aggregate, on the balance sheet, that they're audited. Ms. Marte?

MR. JABOUIN: I think it's about 21. Ms. Motiwala, the internal funds balances are about $20 million?

MR. MEDVIN: Are they a line item on the balance sheet that's audited?

MS. MOTIWALA: Yes. There is a schedule in the annual financial report, I can pull it up, that has internal account balances.

MR. MEDVIN: I'm just curious to make sure that these are part of the whole audit procedure.

MS. MOTIWALA: Well, we've always reported internal accounts balance, but due to the GASB change, part of it is reported in special revenue discussion we're having is maybe -- and I'm not saying you shouldn't do more auditing, I -- you know, whatever, but I think maybe we have an idea that it's not necessarily the right understanding of the people in this room who are CPAs and so forth. This is a tiny bit of what happens in a school with their money. Thank you.

MR. MEDVIN: Well, Appendix B, I think, attempts to explain the different funds and what they are, which may be a little enlightening.

MS. DAHL: Yeah, but I just think that maybe we need to realize again what they're actually doing. And, again, it's not -- these have real controls over them in the way you spend the money, how you decide to spend the money. It just -- I just know that I couldn't -- I could never spend these children's money. That was not my job to spend their money.

MR. MEDVIN: Well, if you recall on some of the reports over the years the various violations had to do with all of that.

MS. DAHL: Right. And I understand that, but you're now seeing that that's not happening.

MR. MEDVIN: That's correct. MS. DAHL: And so the principals have and part of it is in the internal accounts, which is separate, like an agency fund. However, we've always reported that in annual financial statements.

MR. MEDVIN: Thank you. Ms. Dahl? MS. DAHL: Maybe Mr. Jabouin -- I'm sorry, through the Chair. Maybe you would like to go over what these funds are. Because this is not an FTE audit. This is internal funds. And most of these funds are coming because children have raised the money and there are -- the only way you can spend most of the money, at least as I remember, is, for instance, like under clubs that might be your student government association, and not only does the sponsor of student government but the president of student government and the group as a whole is required to, you know, say, yes, we agree with this, they understand what they're spending the money for, there's discussion. And you're looking at -- it's not minuscule, I'm not saying that I wouldn't be upset if I lost $5,589, but there are a lot of things that you have to go through to spend this

So I just think that perhaps some of the learned, at least it appears to be, how this money is supposed to be spent, what are the ways that you can spend it. And, again, it's not the principals' discretion really to spend any of this money. It comes through the --

MS. FERTIG: And I'm sure Ms. Strauss is right and we are going to see a school come before us this year where somebody -- you know, because that's been our experience but it definitely has improved.

Can I just suggest here, I thought I had a motion and a second on the floor.

MR. MEDVIN: You did.

MS. FERTIG: Could we potentially dispose of that and then come back as to whether or not we want to have the chief auditor --

MR. DE MEO: I'll call the question.

MS. FERTIG: Thanks.

MR. MEDVIN: The question has been called.

Please have a vote on that.

All in favor of calling the question?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Aye.

Okay. So that -- so, anyway, in DD-5 -- I'm working through my emails, as well.

So after our last meeting, and hold on, even I have too many stacks of paper now.

MS. FERTIG: Well, here let me hand you this box.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, I do not want that box. I do not want that box.

So at our last meeting there was a lot of discussion about these infamous invoices and there were two different sets of invoices. One set of invoices had the May 1 date. The other invoices were even older and they were in this table -- table 1 and table 2.

So when I went back and reviewed -- and it was never about the invoices. Because there is no mystery. There are two different things going on here regarding the invoices and we're going to kind of work backwards, I guess, from that.

Some of the questions that I had is, why were there three spend requests? And the answer is because they were being funded from different

July 1, how did that get through legal and get to the board as an agreement? The answer is, again, that it was for services that, presumably, started before 7/1. Also, PCG has a 20-year history with this district. If you go combing through board agenda items --

MS. FERTIG: Well, I thought we talked about this at a previous meeting, the fact that they've been here for 20 years at least.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: So when you're here for 20 years, it's not unusual to think that you can just start doing work whether or not the contract -- the contract is something that's kind of happening in the background. I may never get a clear answer on what funding paid for the re-enrollment campaign. We talked about that in November. That was my third question that kind of started me down the rabbit hole.

But, essentially, in that DD-5 item, and I keep having to move all my attachments around here, in that item CRI, and the reason I used that one is that they did a pretty good job of organizing, to your point, what they found. So -- and -- and the issue -- they said, look at, go get answers as to why these invoices were pots of money. That's one of the answers. Why was there $2,857,190 in spend authority with a 5/1 start date? The answer is because everybody knew about it, presumably, because they had to start the work for summer school in -- before the start of summer. So if you have summer school in the summer of 2021, you have to prepare for summer school by doing work to coordinate and whatnot so that when June rolls around, and keeping in mind that June is before July 1, you have to do some legwork, presumably. Anything that you plan for summer you do legwork before summer. So the 5/1 date is not a shocker. And, literally, everybody in the district knew about it. How do we know? Because we have people signing off on it. We have people approving it. We have in those emails, which was one of the attachments, it's approved by the former chief financial officer. It's very clear. It was even approved, that specific amount, by the former superintendent, and I'm talking Runcie because this is 2021.

So the 5/1 start date -- contracts are reviewed by legal. So if a contract had a 5/1 start date and the service didn't begin until paid, that was one of their recommendations, but only academics ever answered. Legal never answered and finance never answered.

At our last meeting we talked about invoices and that if a PO is open and there's money on it accounts payable will pay it, but we have two issues related to that as far as the old invoices.

In the January -- in the January memo there's table 1 and table 2. That has all the invoices. Table 1 has the invoices that are all part of the 2.9 million, including invoice 222076 which is for 515,000. That probably went to the ESSER II re-enrollment campaign, separate issue.

So this is -- these are all the May 1 dates. The second table are all the really old ones. So the questions that finance never answered is, for example, the four invoices in table 2 that had to do with the third amendment to 58-132E was there or wasn't there money left on those POs? If there was money, where did it go? And if there wasn't money, why wasn't there money left and why were they allowed to keep spending?

I will say that in viewing the prior contract 58-132E, the pricing was pretty detailed. So it would only be if there was an overage. A lot of things were subscriptions, they were set prices, so it would only be if they went over and no one was monitoring them, which leads us to the finance department's guidelines, which were in the attachment. So we have the 20 -- 2020-21 and 21-22 and 22-23 capital budget guidelines for planning and funding. So if anyone has those, this was fiscal year 22. We can pick which year we want to look at. But on pages 1, pages 2 and 3 it speaks to general information, budget development, annual carryovers, budget during the year.

So in order for those really old invoices to need to be paid from a current year PO, it means these guidelines were not followed by people.

And how did that happen? Because you're supposed to have budget development. That's on page 1. You're supposed to have annual carryover where unused funds will not carry over into fiscal year 22 except for debate program donations, state required categorical funds and parking lot revenues and miscellaneous funds, blah-blah. If department supervisors believe they have budget line items that must carry over, each or add new funds to the departmental budget.

So it seems as -- so I guess my question is, for table 2 my first question, what happened to the funds for the PO related to those invoices? Through the Chair to whoever has an answer?

MS. FERTIG: Can I just ask a question to make sure I'm understanding? Because I want to make sure they cover all of this.

I thought at our last meeting we determined that they had -- that the department that submits the invoice -- I don't necessarily agree with this

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: This isn't about the invoice at all.

MS. FERTIG: I know. I don't understand. I don't know that this is necessarily, and I wanted to bring this up today, a good process, but that they submit the purchase order number.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I'm talking about before that ever happened. I'm talking about the purchase --

MS. FERTIG: Where is the money? I know. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, no, but the purchase order from these invoices in table 2. Not the one where it was written on there. We're not department supervisor must submit a request via their cabinet member to the CFO before March 31st, 2021 to verify that funds will be carried over.

So for these really old -- the older invoices from the prior fiscal year, I guess the answer is, where did things fall apart? Because there's also a budget during the year, they're supposed to be monitoring. It says departmental budgets will be monitored periodically by the budget office to ensure that funding and expenditures are consistent with the functional and financial needs of the department and the district. Budget office will address any departmental overspending by first giving each department a reasonable time to remedy the issue such as overtime, travel and P-Card overspending. Departments must review their current spending trends to make sure there is sufficient funds to cover expenditures for the remainder of the year. Prior to engaging any contractual professional services, each department must receive an approval of their divisional chief and district CFO. Without this approval -- this is not in the 2021, this is in the 21-22. Budget office will not transfer funds there yet. So you're going to have to give me a little grace, as they say around here, and first let's get to what happened to the money for 58-132E's purchase orders that were to pay these invoices on the second page before we get to -- because, obviously, the money wasn't there, and that's why people were handwriting purchase orders on these specific invoices.

But in order for that to have happened something went wrong in the process. So we have the guidelines on what should have happened. What we're trying to get an answer to is, donde esta the funds? Where did they go? Because if they haven't been -- if they were still sitting out there in carryover, they should have been available for these invoices per the district's finance department's guidelines. If everything was done per guidelines those funds should have been sitting there regardless of what year those invoices rolled in.

MS. FERTIG: I understand, but if they -- if they put the wrong contract number on the invoice --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, no, no, no. MS. FERTIG: Okay. I just want to make sure line items. Not everything is in a PO. So they may have certain line items that they have not consumed for many reasons.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But it's still an expenditure.

MS. MOTIWALA: No, I understand. But what I'm saying is the POs are not mentioned in what you are reading to us.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Well, no, unless you consider them an expenditure. So we don't consider things that are in POs --

MS. MOTIWALA: Those automatically carry over, so -- so there's a different process. That doesn't go through the budget office. That's what I'm trying to explain.

The purchase orders that are open during the year and funds already encumbered, so it's already reduced their budget, those are not available funds. That's already in the PO. So there's no need to request those funds from budget office to be carried over because it's in a PO. So that goes to procurement, not budget office, to carry over the PO.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. I mean, this keeps mentioning expenditures.

their net budget availability. It's important to know that SAP has internal controls built into its system whereby you -- the only part of any department's budget that does not have a hard stop if it is fully expended is payroll. But we do monitor the bottom line of each department's budget to make sure that we project out until the end of the year to make sure they will have enough money to cover their future payroll commitments and all of those things.

So I don't want anyone to leave here thinking that budget is not monitoring what is going on in this district. Nothing is farther from the truth. In fact, the CFO monitors it and I monitor it and we have our monthly monitoring huddle scheduled for tomorrow with the director of financial reporting, with the treasury department, with capital budget, with the budget director, with the entire team, to go through the entire monitoring to make sure that all of my questions are answered as it relates to what's going on in the district.

MR. DE MEO: So if an encumbrance is recorded

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Can I finish? Yeah, if I

Page 62

Okay. So where -- where --

MS. MOTIWALA: So the consumption amount already includes expenditures and encumbrances; that's why.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. So nobody in finance has responsibility for making sure that, despite this saying "monitoring" and speaking to expenditures, what you would have me believe -it sounds like what you're saying is it's on procurement to let departments know whether they have an open PO.

MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Marte?

MS. MOTIWALA: No, schools and departments are the requisitioners. So the departments and schools that are requesting --

MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Marte?

MRS. MARTE: Mr. Chair, let me try to help.

So the finance department absolutely has, using your words, Dr. Lynch-Walsh, some responsibility. We monitor the budget every single month in a formal process including reviewing department expenditures and encumbrances. So in government language a PO is an encumbrance, not an expenditure. An expenditure is cash out the door. So we monitor can finish, because they are in the guidelines.

MR. DE MEO: -- then that budget item is used, the expenditure follows and the PO may carry over to another year, those are two different things, I believe.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I get that.

So finishing up on the guidelines, on pages 4 and 5, purchase orders and prior year encumbrances, do you have this with you?

MS. MOTIWALA: No. I don't have it in front of me.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. That would have been helpful to just read from there.

All right. Departments cannot commit to purchases and services not funded within their budget. Departments must be certain that funding is the correct account structure to comply with purchasing requirements prior to generating a commitment. Prior to engaging any contractual or professional services each department must receive an approval of their divisional chief and district CFO. Without this approval budget office will not transfer funds or add new funds to the departmental budget. Invoices for services rendered and goods received must be paid

1 with funds from the fiscal year in which the liability was incurred. All goods and services should have a purchase order to prevent delay and payment of invoices. Any invoices received shortly after the beginning of fiscal year 2022 for services or goods received within the last few months of fiscal year 2021 must be paid through a prior year open PO. All departments are required to review any open POs within their 1.0 locations prior to the fiscal year end. 11 Departments cannot carry forward any POs into 12 fiscal year 2022 unless they are anticipating 13 services and/or goods to be received between 14 April 1, 2021 and June 30th, 2021. Any POs 15 deemed necessary to carry forward outside of this 16 timeframe must be submitted to the procurement & 17 warehousing department to bring to cabinet for 18 approval no later than May 14th, 2021.

So I guess what we're still trying to understand is why then did academics have to put the PO for fiscal year 22-001 on invoices that were for the prior contract? And they got paid, presumably, from that funding source. Why is that? If everybody -- if everything happened as it should have, which does involve finance, and contract if everybody did what they were supposed to do and there were funds left on the POs associated with 58-132E, or, is it possible that the funds were swept, because things happen, and/or they overspent, because things happen, and that was the only funding source available to them at that time?

MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Marte?

MRS. MARTE: So, through the Chair, the assumption that finance did something wrong is very --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I didn't make an assumption. I said, everybody. Everybody.

MRS. MARTE: No, you pointed out finance. We can replay the tape.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But you didn't reply last time.

MRS. MARTE: I have the floor. It's very unfair, and, quite frankly, disrespectful.

So, there are circumstances where people circumvent the process. I have worked in finance for 34 years in school districts and prior to that eight years in large CPA firms in Boston, Massachusetts. The very best systems of internal controls do not prevent an individual from saying it would probably be a lot simpler to just say, yes, some stuff didn't happen on the finance side that should have instead of making this about these criminal masterminds over in academics who were writing false POs on invoices, because it would seem that the reason --

MS. FERTIG: I'm going to take exception to that term "criminal masterminds". I don't think anybody in this room has at any point ever suggested that there was a criminal mastermind in academics.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: That was the perception I was left with after that meeting.

MS. FERTIG: If you were left with that, I mean, I don't --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Not from the people but from the -- from the conversation. It began to sound like we were accusing them of doing something and we can -- it's all on tape. And I'm not blaming anyone on the audit committee because that would be -- that was the direction that everyone was pushed into.

So, what I'm saying is, under what circumstances would they have had to handwrite a PO for the next year's purchase order and to a vendor, yeah, yeah, do that work, send me a bill and I'll get it paid. I don't care what level of internal audits you follow.

So, the answer to the question is that the invoices we are talking about were never on a PO. They were services that the former chief academic officer requested and then later presented bills and expected everybody to figure out how to solve the problem. That's what happened.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Oh, Mrs. Marte.

Okay. If everyone can look at that table that I'm talking about, it's in CRI's initial report. I think it may be in their January one, as well, tables 1 and 2.

MS. DAHL: Hang on. Are you talking about the original report we got?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Or if it's in the January one, as well, let's go there, because that's shorter. It might be table 2 in January, actually. Let me just pop it out of here.

Okay. So we're going to now look specifically at what these things are. Because it's also unfair to talk about people that aren't here to defend themselves. And we do have a habit around here of blaming the people that are

Page 69 Page 71 Safety Security Instructional Data Integration to no longer here. Another common denominator in 2 the PCG contract is an employee that, her name's SII/TECC, July 2020 through September 2020. Tara Rodger, she doesn't seem to be available MR. JABOUIN: Is there a question, Dr. either. I don't think she's still an employee. Lynch-Walsh? MR. MEDVIN: What does that have to do with DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I am sharing information so anything? we're all clear because a statement was just made DR. LYNCH-WALSH: That you can't ask the -that these were these ad hoc services, so -- but you can't ask the employee because they're not they're all in the prior agreement. here to ask. MRS. MARTE: Through the Chair? Okay. So let's look at table 2. MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Marte? 11 11 MRS. MARTE: The statement I just answered MS. DAHL: What are you looking at? 12 12 DR. LYNCH-WALSH: On page -had to do with year end 2021, not this. 13 13 MS. DAHL: Is this the thing they just handed DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But this is what I was 14 14 out or -talking about. These are the invoices where I'm 15 15 DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, no, no. Page 12 of the trying to understand how they could have gotten 16 16 January 23 memo. Page 12, January 23rd CRI memo, paid. 17 MS. FERTIG: Our problem that I have is -page 12, and we're going to look at each of 18 18 these -- each of these invoices. MRS. MARTE: Then I apologize. I answered 19 19 MS. FERTIG: So this is the third -- can I the wrong question. You were asking about 20 just say, this is the third meeting that we've 20 carryovers and --21 21 discussed this audit so we have reports from --DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I wasn't asking 22 22 and, actually, when I went through it I noticed a hypothetical. I was very specific to table 2 as 23 23 slight difference between what I got in November I have been, that these four -- so if we can all 24 24 and what we had in this packet in November on agree that it's possible these slipped between 25 25 numbering of pages. So -the cracks for accounts payable or that the Page 70 Page 72 1 1 DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Well, this is the -- well, moneys were swept from the prior year and these I'm trying to keep it simple. January 23rd -just got left out in the cold, because four MS. FERTIG: Yeah, January 23rd, it's that invoices out of dozens is possible, then we can table. move on from this particular issue. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: -- page 12. Page 12, table MS. MOTIWALA: May I ask what the purchase order number is so we can track it down and Okay. So the first invoice -- and understand purchasing can actually confirm if it was carried 8 that all of these go back to the prior agreement over or not? Do you have the purchase order which had four, I believe, amendments, but the number? 10 10 agreement was 58-132E. And the first one is MS. FERTIG: And we're talking about a 11 11 EdPlan Behavioral Threat Assessment Module, different contract. 12 12 quarter 1 subscription. That was in the third DR. LYNCH-WALSH: What? 13 13 amendment to this agreement. The second -- so MS. Having said that, the reason this is relevant, Mary, is because these invoices came from somewhere. They were not random.

MS. FERTIG: Okay. So can I comment on this? Because we have half an hour of the meeting left and this is a major audit with the next one being pretty major -- the conversation being major, too.

What I took away last month when I left and I thought about this and wanted to bring back is somewhat akin to what you're saying, is I understood the process, the onus is on the requesting department who submits a bill for payment to give the applicable purchase order.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But it was never about the bill. It was about what had happened long before that

MS. FERTIG: No, it is about the bill, because -- maybe yours isn't, but mine is. Mine is that I feel that there should be you two needs to be fixed.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Everything about this is complicated.

MR. DE MEO: But page 3 discusses all of this and those specific invoices. And it's clear Mr. Gohl, Mr. Gohl went ahead and --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, that's the problem. It's not as clear. Because they would have had -- so what I'm trying to get at is, if you have to write or are told to write a different PO on there because there's no funding in the PO that pertains, you would have had no other choice but to use that PO if you're trying to get them paid because they fell through the cracks and somebody brought it your attention.

MR. DE MEO: Clearly they violated policy.
DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Violated or people before didn't follow the guidelines and whatever not.
And so when they appeared, or however they appeared, everybody worked towards getting them paid, but it's not just the end user because there's all these internal controls that are supposed to happen so that that doesn't happen.
But this is four invoices and so would he have known to write this PO and/or was there no money?

checks in place. I feel that when you receive a request for payment and it says that it's a particular contract, you should double-check to make sure that if you're getting a bill that was stamped for November services of 2020 that it's something that should be paid out of a fiscal year '21 contract. And that's the one thing I thought about when I left here last month is, I think there could be a better way to double-check that, and things like this wouldn't slip through the cracks or you would go back to the previous purchase order to get them paid.

So I -- I was hoping that we could have that conversation today about how we could strengthen -- I think it's a very simple fix, but I -- I just don't think it's just on the requesting department for it to be paid. I think it's on both ends that you need to assure that what they're asking you to pay for is eligible for payment under the contract or the -- whatever, the account they're asking you to pay from. And in this case it's pretty clear these were 2020 invoices being paid for something that did not even pass until 2021. I don't think it's complicated. I just think it's something that

Because the point is, there should have been money on the old PO or POs to pay these.

And as far as -- in the interest of time the prior -- the table immediately prior, table 1, is all about the 2.9 million that has to do with the summer school -- summer intervention program. So DD-1, or, sorry, DD-5, which has that whole matrix in there that CRI had some observations, it's their conclusions that are problematic.

Because CRI states that we need to find out, I think this is number, let's see, potential front-loaded -- they have -- I have number one, 2, number 5 on page 3 -- were you referencing the same page 3, Mr. De Meo?

MR. DE MEO: Yeah.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. Certain invoices paid with service period dates prior to the effective date of the agreement, we recommend that BCPS management perform the following, investigate these items to determine why these invoices with service periods dated prior to the execution of the agreement or second amendment respectively were approved and paid. Very simple, everybody knew -- everybody approved them. So the two point -- so forgetting about the old ones from the prior year, which it sounds like they don't have an answer for that until they go back and look at the PO associated with the prior contract to see if there were funds left over, because it sounds like they are not sure that there were or weren't funds, so we can't answer that question. Because it could have been that academics wrote the PO for fiscal year 22-001 on the invoices thinking that was the only funding available, but it sounds now like we're not 100 percent certain. That's one issue.

MR. DE MEO: Mr. Chair?

MR. MEDVIN: Mr. De Meo? Yes.

MR. DE MEO: The report, the updated report says in their conclusion that none of the facts presented additional facts and supplemental information, including the memo from PCG, changes their conclusion. So what I want -- and PCG basically says the language was inarticulate and it wasn't specific.

Where are we at? I mean --

MS. FERTIG: I mean, that's the question I want to get to.

MR. DE MEO: I mean, that's just where we're at. You know, I've read a lot of this. I'm

Page 79

So these -- the invoices in table 1, they are -- they are saying investigate why these things were paid. The simple answer is that everybody approved them. They went through finance, Mrs. Marte approved the 2.9, Mr. Runcie approved the 2.9, Legal, I have all the emails. MRS. MARTE: Through the Chair?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Make sure you know which 2.9 I'm referring to.

MRS. MARTE: I know exactly what 2.9 we're referring to. I approved that it was a budget allowable expenditure. I didn't approve any invoices. What I did is based on the Florida Department of Ed May 27th, 2021 approved ESSER application to use ESSER funds to pay PCG and it's specifically --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: That's not actually what I was talking about.

MRS. MARTE: So that's what I approved. I don't approve invoices unless they're from my department.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. Let me explain again.

MS. FERTIG: Here's my problem, Nathalie, we hired somebody to do this audit, we've had three getting to the 400 pages you sent after I read the Bible and War And Peace. I'm going to get there.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I highlighted what's relevant. You don't have to read it all.

MR. DE MEO: It already says that their conclusion isn't changed. Can we re-audit them? I think we need to move on and find out where we're at legally with this difference.

MS. FERTIG: And that is what I was hoping we'd talk about today, because -- and I want to finish what you're saying with the invoices, but there's a major question to me as to whether these are duplicative. It sounds like that we're owed the money and we need to pursue --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Well, before -- before you get too excited about that, hold that thought, because I went and actually read the prior -again, you've got to read the prior contract, and it is a separate item, but hold your enthusiasm on that one.

If you've missed the forest for the tree, as it is possible, and I believe CRI has missed the forest for the trees, then you're going to have erroneous conclusions.

audit meetings on it.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I'm saying you didn't get your money's worth. I'm saying they did not dig

MS. FERTIG: I understand that. I would like to see an email directly, and I don't care if it's Dan Gohl or somebody else, because I don't want to personalize this to any person. So if we could just stay off of that. I would like to say if somebody approved invoice number whatever or 211448, I would like to see his email saying you are supposed to take that money from this particular contract not that particular contract.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. But that would come from the now chief financial officer because she literally just said, she asked me for the POs from the old contract to see if there's money left over, because I don't believe they're 100 percent certain that there wasn't funds. And so that's an off-line conversation. So that's one issue on a side burner. The next issue, and I was not actually talking about the ESSER applications, but now that Mrs. Marte has brought that up, understand that Amendment 3 of the ESSER applications have -- has funding for a thousand

1 ESE instructors and a thousand non-instructional people for this summer intervention camp, which is what all of this is for, and then in Amendment 5 those two things are reversed, and I don't know why, I don't know if they suddenly didn't need any of those instructional people, and so instead there's now funding for University Instructors, which apparently included essentially the district paying PCG to get the district tutors, 1.0 some of whom were actual teachers, so I'm not 11 understanding from that perspective why we had to 12 pay University Instructors to recruit and pay and 13 coordinate our own staff that we could have done 14 directly, but that's a whole other conundrum.

MRS. MARTE: Mrs. Fertig, respectfully, my email was in response to my staff -- so this is

But what I was speaking to are the emails where the item goes to the board for the funding for PCG and these particular -- these invoices are associated with particular line items that were all approved and it was all understood that it's the explanation for why this starts. It is not about invoices.

for the summer intervention program and that is approved in May of 2021 by Mrs. Marte. So it was

Page 83 general budget and one in capital budget, that have to, in the work flow in Granicus, approve an item and say, yep, this is funded. When we got to this item, they could not see the funding.

And that was because the board item was June 15th. Agendas are done more than a week in advance. And the approval from the state to realign grant funding to fund this didn't happen until May 27th. So the director of budget hadn't made the journal entries in the computer so my staff could see the funding.

Starr could see the runding.

I happen to know that it had been approved because I picked up the phone and asked somebody, so I jotted a quick email, it's funded, it's okay, you can approve the item.

It has nothing to do with the invoices. I was approving that the item, the procurement item that was being presented to the board did indeed have funding that wasn't reflected in the computer yet because of timing.

MR. DE MEO: Mr. Chair, is Mr. Kincaid or Mr. Broline here from CRI.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Broline is here.

MR. DE MEO: Broline? Sir, could you comment on some of this matter? Did you consider these the process. When I came here in 2017 and Dr. Wanza was a cabinet member then and she knows what happened. I was having senior staff come to me and say, I need you to find the money for this, the board approved this board item. And I said --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: This was before board approval. This was before.

MRS. MARTE: I said, but, did you take a board item to the board without funding? Yeah, but they said this is okay, so now I need to fund it. So in 2017 I implemented a process as part of agenda preparation that no item could go to the board unless we validated that it was funded. If we did need to take something to the board that wasn't funded, the item would say to the board, there is not currently funding in the budget for this item, and if you approve this item we will need to take money out of fund balance to approve it. Because it was happening often. And, remember, I did this 15 years in Miami-Dade, so I knew how the work flows should happen.

So my email was because the two individuals in finance, there are two individuals, one in things that Dr. Lynch-Walsh has mentioned or is this new information?

MR_BROLINE: Or

MR. BROLINE: Our report lays out everything that we considered within the scope of what we were engaged to do.

MR. DE MEO: Okay.

MR. BROLINE: So, I guess, if you have something specific -- there's been a lot of discussion. It would be helpful if you could maybe ask a specific question for me to answer within that.

MR. DE MEO: So can I ask you, Dr. Lynch-Walsh, to address some specific questions to Mr. Broline so we could find out where we're going with this?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I think where we're going to this is to the OIG, but, so, because the emails with finance go all the way back.

Now, you guys mentioned that you looked, I think in their initial report, and I'm not sure -- and understand that he just said it's based on their scope, and, so, basically, it sounds like everything I've mentioned is new information to them.

MR. DE MEO: Yeah, I didn't get a clear

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Right. Is it new? Did you look at 58-132E and all its amendments and all of its funding?

MR. BROLINE: Relative to the PCG contract, no.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: What else would it be relative to?

MR. BROLINE: Again, we were asked to look at the fiscal year '22 contracts. And so to answer your question, we did not look at the specific contract you mentioned, the 58 contract.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. So getting to the 40-page document that we just got, I did go back and look at the old contract, and it does have translation, because PCG's defense is, while everything's written poorly, which begs the question, what is legal doing when they look at contracts? I mean, it seems a fair question. You can't -- you do see that translation in, it's 1.14, I believe, in the old contract, and in the new contract the way they wrote that this line item is for 1.11 through 1.16 and 1.16 or whatever is the dynamic translation, having read all of these documents and I don't know how many overbilling, but you would have to review the old contract amendment number 2 and you'd have to look at all the emails going back and forth.

MS. FERTIG: No, no, there's a contract. And maybe -- and I really am disappointed we have no one from legal here today, because, quite frankly, there's a contract. PCG signed that contract. If there was some -- now, we're expecting our attorneys to read that contract and determine that it does what it should for the School Board of Broward County. I don't think we're asking our attorneys to also be attorneys for PCG. So, in my mind, if there is something in there that PCG claims that they had conversations about, and, obviously, the emails substantiate that, but it wasn't in the contract, they need to be making a phone call to their attorney. That's -- that's how I'm reading this. I don't think it's up to us to fault our attorneys because they didn't put something in that they didn't -- that they may not even have known about. That should have been picked up. I mean, maybe I'm wrong, but we don't have an attorney here and we should.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: It's in -- no, Mary --

hundreds of pages, I would tend to agree more with PCG. And I want to remind the people that are on the audit committee who were here when HTC did those. I don't know if it was Recordex or Lenovo, where the splitting of the invoices was failed, they did not have that as an observation, initially, and then we all said, but, clearly, invoices are being split, why wasn't that included as an observation? And auditors' conclusions, particularly in my experience here are only as good as the scope of work that they are engaged to do. And that is what we have had here. Because I don't disagree with a lot of their observations, it's their conclusions that are problematic because they were forced to go like this (indicating).

MR. DE MEO: Okay. So CRI believes there is potentially 825,000 of overbilling.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I'm not sure that's accurate.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. And you believe maybe this overbilling could be a result of the imprecise language in the contract like PCG says?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: For the 75,000 I think it's absolutely possible that there was not an

Mary, it's in there. The problem is that they said it's a scrivener's error. So if we could go examine that scrivener's error, because that does pertain to what they looked at, so it's on -- and I'm not sure they're clear on where it is, but, essentially, in the agreement for fiscal year

MR. JABOUIN: If I may Vice Chair, legal is not able to make it to this meeting, but I've talked to them extensively in various meetings regarding that item. It is their opinion that the document translation was part of a package that we purchased for ESE services. So we are remaining strong with them that the language that the board approved should be what's in effect. They have indicated that they have had several conversations with a variety of people, but those were verbal representations. We have a signed contract. And even though the new contract for 2023 has document translation bundled in, the contract that was signed and was looked at by several of PCG's representatives is what we have.

MR. DE MEO: Does -- does legal support the possibility that we've been overbilled 825,000? MR. JABOUIN: So the audit, itself, and let's remember, the focus of the audit was based on the complaint that was sent in regarding a PCG representative, but I've gone over this matter with legal on that front. So the amount that the district paid is different than what the spend authority was on track to get to. So the original report had, based on payments that the district made to PCG an overbilling of 75,000 for document translation services. It had the potential if it stayed on track to be more than that though.

MR. DE MEO: So does legal recommend litigation to recover amounts that were wrongfully paid or do we share some of the blame? I mean, we can have --

MR. JABOUIN: Those conversations are going on because I communicated to PCG directly from me that that is our position. Legal was on the call with me and their legal was also on there, and that unless they're able to come up with documentation, and what they sent in their letter is not sufficient. So the district's position, and we're going to remain firm on it, is that we are --

MR. DE MEO: Is CRI's scope insufficient to there is management responses and the follow-up to cure these, not just this contract but the next contract and other contracts, that's the next step, I think, for the committee.

MR. DE MEO: Sure. Okay. I'll make a motion. I'm going to make a motion that the audit committee refers this to legal for any further action and investigation. And if the chief auditor believes the scope was insufficient to address this matter in connection with legal's review of this matter, then we engage CRI to expand their procedures to complete the investigation.

MS. FERTIG: I'll second it. MR. JABOUIN: Sure. Could you --MS. FERTIG: I know that was a lot. MR. JABOUIN: Yeah, it was a lot.

MS. FERTIG: But we have a -- I mean, we have a court reporter here, so I'm pretty sure we're going to get that.

MR. DE MEO: Did you get that, sir? MS. FERTIG: I mean, basically, you want this referred to legal, which is the appropriate place.

MR. DE MEO: Yes.

address this matter?

MR. JABOUIN: So CRI's scope was created based on the complaint that was sent in and then I called them and the state, based on conversations with me, determined what would be looked at, and then I communicated that to CRI. And then I met with the state several times to tell them what we're doing, and we gave them a presentation of where the report was and so forth, and they were fine with it, and then, ultimately, they accepted the report.

So the purpose of all this is based upon the complaint that came in and meeting the state's requirements. Now --

MS. FERTIG: Which had nothing to do with this.

MR. JABOUIN: Yeah. So, as you know, Mr. De Meo and the rest of the committee, you go into a project with the information that is known at the beginning and then certain things evolve.

Now. I think some of the points that were made need to be looked at in the new contract that the board signed in January of 2023, and that's the next step.

Also, there are findings in the report and

MS. FERTIG: I mean, this is not --MR. DE MEO: And I think Dr. Lynch-Walsh's issues need to be addressed.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Well, that would require expanding their scope. Because I shouldn't have had to audit the audit. And I think that had their scope been sufficient they would have found what I found or maybe they just haven't dealt with the district long enough to understand all of the inner workings. But between the public records, which I have shared with everybody, and reading all of that and reviewing it, there are multitudes of emails about the funding for that summer intervention program that should have prevented them from ever having a concern. The May 1 date -- it's sort of like the old saying around here, the coverup is worse than the crime. Everybody knew what they were doing with these May 1 dates.

MR. DE MEO: Well, that's your conclusion. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But what I'm saying is everybody -- everybody knew what that -- those services were and that ultimately you're going to get invoiced for things that are in the contract and it was for the summer intervention program.

MR. DE MEO: Yeah, please. Thank you. MS. FERTIG: Can I bring something up?

MR. MEDVIN: We have to get going.

MS. FERTIG: This is on this audit and it's a whole different topic than where Dr. Lynch-Walsh, which I know we're almost out of time.

I just want to say, and I noticed you were nodding when I said this, I think there needs to be a different -- a little stronger process in place for paying these. And you seem to be on top of it. So that it's not just up to the department -- it's not just up to Dr. Mancini to send you something and make sure she's got the right contract. It's incumbent upon you to make sure she's got the right contract. So we have a -- you know, we have a check and balance system here. And I think that's just a good practice and I think most people do it.

So I'm leaving it at that. That's my recommendation. I don't know that we need to make it a motion, but that's one of the things that I've thought about ever since you've had this first conversation about this.

MS. MOTIWALA: I believe Mrs. Marte has you understand that the issue I'm talking about, because it was from 2020 and it was paid with a

PO for fiscal year '22, that what we're talking about, specifically, is whether they overspent and that whole monitoring piece didn't happen or whether the funds got swept because miscommunication and the guidelines weren't followed. Whether one of those two things or both could have happened in some respect. But we don't have an answer from you for that.

So I believe Mr. De Meo -- basically, I'm looking for actual answers to my question and CRI, I kind of -- I never like having to bash an auditor, but -- especially when it's not their fault, and we've had this happen with HCT, we've had it happen in the past where the auditor's conclusion missed things because of the scope. And we're not driving the scope.

So I would prefer to add, to change a little of what you said earlier, I think it should be evident by the sheer amount of work I had to do just to uncover this additional information that the scope that they were given was not sufficient to actually answer --

MR. DE MEO: I think they should hire you, mentioned before that we are looking into the Ariba implementation. IT is involved, as well. And we would like to look at the Procure-to-Pay process in its entirety on how to improve the process.

But also I would like to address one thing that Dr. Nathalie Lynch-Walsh mentioned earlier about the handwritten PO. So when Mrs. Marte came on board as the chief financial officer she worked with Ms. Coker to get the communication out to suppliers, and it's on Procurement's website, as well, and has been communicated to vendors many different ways, and I'm going to read it from their website, obtain a Broward County Public Schools purchase order prior to providing goods or services. Vendors should not commence work without a PO. So that's -- but I'm saying that vendors also have a responsibility and know that they should not be doing work until they have a PO already in place. Because a lot of times, like you were mentioning, a PO is handwritten later, which means, either it wasn't in place before or something else was missing in the process.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. So, but I believe

CRI. No question about it. I included the words -- I included the words investigate and to determine if the scope needs to be expanded and to add additional procedures by CRI. So --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But you said the chief auditor determines if the scope --

MR. DE MEO: Well, I think he needs to do that with the attorneys and then we can, you know, overview that. We can't really do his job.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Well, no, we can't. We sure can't.

MS. FERTIG: But, you know, I would say at least on these 278,000, just two more points, one, and I don't want to get into debate on this, some of those services were in November of 2020 and had to do with the Behavioral Threat Assessment so I'm not quite sure what that had to do with summer school.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, no, that's the other table is summer school. The other table is summer school.

MS. FERTIG: Okay. I'm just referring to this 278.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Yeah, that has nothing to do with summer school.

MS. FERTIG: The other thing I wanted to say is that I think one thing we've seen from these several months of audits, that we -- that these audits can pay for themselves if they recover money. And whether we're getting into a debate, I, personally, think, yes, you got into this because you had a complaint against improper influence or whatever and that's how you first got into doing the audit, but what we found out through this audit, and caps and gowns and others, is that we can improve our business processes and recover money. That, I think is what needs to be our takeaway and we should expand this.

1.0

You only know about PCG and overbillings because somebody complained about the actions of improper influence. But every contract in this entire department or in any department could be the same and there may be moneys that are recoverable if we do those audits. So I just want to say, I'm glad that this happened, even though it kind of was a roundabout way of getting to where you got because -- and I think this is something that we should, you know, encourage the board to do, is to do more audits like these on substance. We looked at a lot of emails and texts, as you know, and we looked at the procurement process, itself, relative to the PCG contract in question.

So if we actually did stop there that would be all that would be here. So we identified a number of errors of potential duplicative costs and a lack of controls in a number of areas that are in the report, in the original and expanded upon in the supplement. So I just wanted to add that.

MS. FERTIG: And just to that point is what I'm saying. I know Ms. Marte wants to speak. Just to that point, because of the way this began it was limited to one company. And all I'm saying is I suspect because of the number of policy changes you've recommended that it would be -- if you were to pick any other company we would find some of these same things. I think it pays for itself to do these types of audits. And, so, thank you.

MR. MEDVIN: Ms. Marte.

MRS. MARTE: I know we're short, but thank you for one moment.

So in my world, in our world as practicing specific contracts to determine the recovery of money. So --

MR. JABOUIN: Let's not forget, the focus of the work was on the PCG complaint. Many of the things that CRI did were in addition to the complaint and they found several findings that would have been outside of the scope of normal work.

Mr. Broline, can you speak to that? MR. BROLINE: Yeah. So, thank you.

So, to answer your question, there's only maybe two findings that are directly related to the scope as the focus of the complaint. All those other items we did identify in the course of our work. I just want to be clear about that because I keep hearing statements that we didn't. And that we did, as part of that, we don't -- as part of that, it's all in there, exactly. So there's many items. Yeah, there's many items in there, too, as process improvements, lack of internal controls, potential duplicate costs, all of those items were not part of the original scope.

The original scope, as you might recall, was to look whether or not the allegation had government finance staff, audits are actually not anything that we're afraid of. They're an opportunity to do things better. We absolutely, aside from potential software fixes, I've spoken to Ms. Motiwala and she does have a lot of vacancies and -- she has 13 vacancies in accounting right now. But it is absolutely appropriate that we should be doing testing and review on our end when there are invoices coming in from departments. So we don't -- we're not going to -- you know, it's not something we're interested in saying, no, we're not going to do it. We're going to find a way to do it. That is a practice that we should be doing.

The review of -- or the compliance with the contracts, Ariba is absolutely the way to do that. That will give us, this is the contracted amount, these are POs put in against that contract, and then as the invoices are put in a hard stop happens when all of the events in that match.

So, again, thank you for that. We are going to take that and work out a plan to make sure that there's a -- and as Dr. Smiley says check the checker. So they say it's okay to pay, on

We have to get on to the next matter now, please.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Mr. Chair, one more question while we have CRI here. Because after he goes -- on page, this is the matrix DD, that was part of DD-5, so I'm on page 4. Number 6, Lack of Proper Contractual Approval of Additional Spending Authority Request, there's a recommendation, we recommended that going forward that management and consultation with the Office of General Counsel put a process in place to ensure that any spending authority request submitted to the school board for approval have first been contractually approved in the agreement or by way of amendment, if applicable.

Did you -- Mr. Broline, did you guys review emails related to that observation? That observation had to do, of course, in the agreement when they did the first spend authority request, the items, the line items were in the point. I think it, I'm going to say, I'd have to go back to the report, but I think it's around 18.6, if someone can find that. I don't have it at my fingertips.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: That was the total.

MR. BROLINE: Yeah.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: So they started with 5.9 or 8.2, I forget which one came first and then they went back for the second piece.

MR. BROLINE: Right.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: And then there was the additional request that had to do with the re-enrollment campaign which was supposedly free, but that's a different discussion, and then there was the second amendment which came in January or February for 2 million more.

MR. BROLINE: Right.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But I'm focused on the first two, the May and June.

MR. BROLINE: Yeah, and I'll let -- my colleague, Ben Kincaid is on the phone can add to his because his team looked at all the emails and text messages, so -- but based upon --

MR. KINCAID: Yeah, this is Ben Kincaid. So we did examine the emails and we did have, you agreement but there were no amounts even though the amounts were in exhibits, but they weren't in the original requests. So it went to the board on 5/18 and then went to the board again June 15th, I think, 2020? A day in May, a day in June.

MR. BROLINE: Yes. Yes.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: So, basically, they knew that they were coming in June, but did you examine why they did it in two different trips instead of just coming to the board all at once in May? Did you investigate that? Did you look at emails or anything else or question people? Because I -- to kind of understand why that was done in two trips to the board when they knew all of the services that would be coming as part of the agreement?

MR. BROLINE: Yeah, so I'm trying to recall if we mentioned in our original report, but I can go by, there were conversations that the response we got was, there needed to be -- it was a funding reason, so they didn't come all at once. They only -- they went through and there was a process, and we did look at some emails in this regard that talked about the full amount at one

1 know, questions in our interviews related to that. And as Rob had mentioned earlier in his response was that essentially there was funding limitations, funding resource limitations within the school district at that time and there was not enough funding available for the full request. And so before it went to the board, within the few days before it went to the board for the May 2021 meeting, the request was reduced down to what was ultimately approved because of funding limitations. Once additional funding became available, was secured, that's when it was brought back to the board in the June 21 meeting. 14

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: And who did you obtain that response from? Do you remember?

MR. KINCAID: There was a variety of emails and it was also in a variety of our discussions as well. I believe there was emails within Finance and Procurement, as well, related to that. I don't recall specifically the individuals that were emailing back and forth, but there was a slew of people on those email communications discussing how to fund the contract and what was actually available to fund as far as resources within the district at that

28 (Pages 109 to 112) Page 109 Page 111 1 1 juncture in May of '21. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But, hold on, let me get to 2 your original page. Page 48? DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. So the summer 3 intervention program piece, because that's where MR. BROLINE: Yes. the May 1 service dates are coming in, and I DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Hold on. 5 understand -- and in theory in an ideal world you MR. JABOUIN: I just want to mention to the 6 would have a contract -- you would never have committee that we do have other consultants that are waiting, too, for the other agenda items. service dates that predate the contract date, but was it clear from what you reviewed why there DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Well, you might be faster 9 were May 1 service dates? Was it clear that this to read it because I'm trying to get to page 48. 1.0 10 was for the summer intervention program? Because MR. BROLINE: Just -- just to be -- just to 11 11 that was in the email. That's the University say it briefly, we have that as a finding, and 12 12 the response from PWS was they agreed that there Instructors. 13 13 MR. KINCAID: So from the emails it was not should not have been put a spending authority 14 clear why there was, you know, May -- or, excuse 14 date that was prior to the effective date of the 15 15 me, service dates prior to the effective date of agreement. So I can say that. 16 16 the contract. There was not really a discussion DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Yeah, that -- my question 17 17 on that end in the emails. And, you know -- and, is, how did it get there in the first place? And 18 18 obviously, we did have findings in relation to since it was summer, a summer intervention 19 19 that. But there was not really a discussion program, what services were being performed? 20 within the emails regarding the earlier service 20 So I think the motion -- it sounds like you 21 21 dates and the effective date of the contract and didn't get an answer to that question, but 22 22 why that was or was not the case. follow-up should handle that problem. 23 23 DR. LYNCH-WALSH: So did you interview or So, thank you. 24 24 question anyone regarding why there were May 1 MR. MEDVIN: Moving on? 25 service dates? Because those service dates are 25 MR. JABOUIN: I do need a motion to transmit, Page 110 Page 112 1 1 in all the funding requests. They were in the though. MS. FERTIG: Move to transmit. emails. So if they're not -- so is it 3 MR. DE MEO: Second. possible -- did you ask anybody why the May 1 service date? MR. MEDVIN: All in favor? MR. KINCAID: So that's part of the COMMITTEE MEMBERS: Aye. MR. MEDVIN: Opposed? follow-up, and as Mr. Jabouin, the chief auditor, DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I oppose. Only -- will had mentioned earlier, you know, that was part of 8 that motion go with the report? Because that's our finding and our recommendation is to look at 9 that and look at that as part of the follow-up to why I'm opposed. 10 10 this audit. MR. JABOUIN: The only other motion, and I do 11 11 think I would need a vote for this one is the one MR. BROLINE: And just if I could add to 12 12 to refer the matter to legal. I do want to tell that? Actually, in the report, if you look on 13 13 the -- the original report on page 48, in the original report under finding 6, we do have a response from PWS regarding --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Yeah, but I think the response we're looking for -- because you still have it in the most recent document. You had a response about invoices.

MR. BROLINE: I'm sorry, just to be clear, I thought you were talking about the May 1st dating in the agreement that was added. I think that's what I thought you were just talking about.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, I was.

MR. JABOUIN: Yeah, but I do need to know what those are though.

MS. FERTIG: Well, there's one. There's the one that Mr. De Meo made about referring this to legal.

MS. MURTHA: Thank you very much, Mr. Jabouin. As you just cued this up, we have provided some thoughts to the chief auditor's office on how we could address these sections of policy in future engagements where we are auditing BTA compliance. We're happy to walk through those one by one if that's what the committee would like to do. I understand we're under some time pressure today, but perhaps we could at least begin the conversation, if that's amenable to you all I will hand it over to Natalee to walk us through point by point. MR. DE MEO: Mr. Chief Auditor, Mr. Chair,

District's School Safety Specialist shall ensure compliance. We can do a lot of, a lot of testing around that. However, I think in order to be able to audit that we'll need the policy wording to be updated. I don't know that anybody would be able to ensure compliance with the policy. Our report, certainly, issued quarterly will show that the policy is not being completely followed.

One of the things that was brought up by the committee at the last meeting was that they wanted a director, senior level person, to be that district school safety specialist and that they wouldn't have any other responsibilities but the compliance with the policy. And we, certainly, can look to make sure that that is happening.

We can look at the policies and procedures, but as we issue the quarterly report, I think it's noted that the district is not in compliance with the policy at 100 percent.

MR. JABOUIN: I just wanted to mention to those on the phone, Jennifer Murtha, that was you speaking; right?

MS. MURTHA: Correct. MR. JABOUIN: Thank you.

Page 118

MR. JABOUIN: Laura, I'm just looking through my emails. I -- I don't have anything from you regarding your approach to those specific attributes. I know in my conversations that I had that with respect to 3-A there were some thoughts from RSM as far as whether or not the report satisfied that or whether or not testing of the controls done by Mr. Lozano's area would suffice for that. Because it's a pretty big conclusion for them to make.

can they do it or not, those four items? I

But let me have you run with that, Laura, as far as what do you think you'd be comfortable with in order to be able to test these.

MS. CARTER-LYNCH: Can I interrupt for a second?

MR. JABOUIN: Of course.

MS. CARTER-LYNCH: I have a family emergency, will you have quorum if I leave?

MR. JABOUIN: One moment.

MS. CARTER-LYNCH: Because, if not, I --

21 MR. JABOUIN: I do. I need six and I have 22 six.

MS. CARTER-LYNCH: Okay. Thank you. MR. JABOUIN: Thank you, Ms. Carter-Lynch. MS. MURTHA: I am happy to address 3-A, the

And if you can help our court reporter by just saying your name right before you speak? Thank you.

But what I'm also gathering, Jennifer, from what you're saying is, the answer is no on 3-A, unless there's some policy changes that would need to happen.

MS. MURTHA: Correct. This is Jennifer. Correct.

MR. JABOUIN: What about 3-F, that parents of public school students have a right to timely notification of threats, unlawful acts and significant emergencies, is there anything that we can do to be able to change that to a yes? Or what would it take for the district to be able to do that at the next testing period.

MS. MURTHA: This is Jennifer Murtha. We will perform a walk-through with the district's behavioral threat assessment department to understand the notification sent to parents around a reported threat and how and if it is documented to be able to audit that. We should be able to audit that attribute and report it back to the audit committee.

MR. JABOUIN: Okay. So that's a yes on 3-F.

MS. MURTHA: So, again, this is Jennifer Murtha. We will be able to look at the agencies that were involved with the student, however, we are not mental health professionals that would be able to know and determine if other agencies should have been notified.

MR. JABOUIN: Okay. Just -- so it does sound like there's something that can be done on 5-D though is what I'm picking up?

MS. MURTHA: We can look at compliance of the documentation of those service providers that were contacted. However, we cannot determine if others should have been included with that particular threat.

MR. DE MEO: Mr. Chair, Mr. Chief Auditor, I think we should provide -- in fairness to RSM we should provide the agencies, Mr. Lozano should provide the agencies that -- police, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera, and then for them it's just a matter of checking to see if a box was checked, basically.

MS. MURTHA: Again, this is Jennifer Murtha. That would provide a walk-through with the district's BTA team to understand who the other agencies are, the documentation that's kept. But we could not determine if they were the appropriate agency to contact based on the threat. And, again, this is other agencies outside of law enforcement.

MR. JABOUIN: Correct. Outside of law enforcement, Ms. Murtha.

And, let's remember, though, RSM are audit professionals, they're not behavioral specialists.

MR. DE MEO: Right.

MR. JABOUIN: So whether or not that was the appropriate organization is beyond what they have indicated that they could do. And that's a normal expectation.

MR. DE MEO: Again, if Mr. Lozano develops some policy with the -- maybe that was reviewed by the school board, then it would be something that could be audited.

But, Mr. Lozano, can you tell us about that? Are there specific agencies that referrals are made to or is it -- how do we determine which

MS. MURTHA: Correct.

MR. DE MEO: So that's what I would recommend there rather than saying we can't do it.

Anything that requires a conclusion by RSM we need to very carefully look at. These are agreed-upon procedures. We want them to perform them and tell us if there's any exceptions. That's all.

MR. JABOUIN: I wanted to ask Mr. Lozano and Ms. Punzi, are we able to build in what Mr. De Meo said? So, if an agency was contacted, the name of the agency and when would be within our files and RSM could check that?

MR. LOZANO: Schools currently document when they reach out to law enforcement agencies and document that in EDPlan platform.

MR. DE MEO: Ms. Dahl showed me the form and it has specific boxes. Just follow the form. That's all.

MR. JABOUIN: All right. Thank you. And then on the last attribute, the BTA team shall notify additional members of the school community to whom threatening behavior should be reported and provide guidance.

Any concerns from RSM on that?

agencies should be appropriately contacted?

MR. LOZANO: So, again, for the most part, that is done in collaboration with the law enforcement that's assigned to the school and our district safety staff. Outside of law enforcement you start getting into FERPA violations and things like that.

MR. DE MEO: But how would an auditor know what agencies should be contacted, which ones are appropriate?

MR. LOZANO: So, again, law enforcement is part of the threat assessment process. They sign it. So it's easy to identify which law enforcement was involved. So there are occasions where we may have a situation where a student, the school's jurisdiction or municipality may be in one city but where the student lives is in another city, so there are times we do work with multiple municipalities on a case and those would be documented on the threat assessment form.

MS. DAHL: That didn't answer your question. MR. DE MEO: No, I don't think they can address the appropriateness. But if these are listed and they're explained how to go about which agencies to contact, then I think it is

MR. JABOUIN: Yeah, Ms. Dahl, Mr. Lozano indicated that law enforcement's involvement, that could probably steer them in the right direction.

MS. DAHL: I'm not really disagreeing with that, but I think that the school board is a little bit hampered by referrals to different agencies and so forth because of the fact that some of them require payment and the school board doesn't necessarily pay for -- you know, is able to pay for those things. Some other things that happen is the child might get referred to something and the agency is full and they don't have another place to send them.

So there's a lot of barriers with these kinds of things that children might not necessarily get the services that they need because of the other things that are happening.

So I think it would be very difficult for, you know, the behavioral threat assessment to be able to find a spot for every single one of the

Are we seeing a decrease as a result of some of the services that we have? If all we see is the high level threats going up, that may indicate that we need to try some different strategies is the only thing I'm really looking for there. Because I think it's very -- you know, we're never going to fix the world and make it 100 percent. I mean, we'd like to, though, but -but I think that we could just numerically look at the numbers and see what's happening in schools as far as school safety. So, just for what it's worth.

MR. LOZANO: So I can tell you, Ms. Fertig, from the beginning of the year September/October we had 26, 24 of our highest level threats; in January we had 16; in February we had 10. So they are steadily decreasing, which is good.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: And if you can look at that since you started year to year as well as quarter to quarter.

MR. LOZANO: Got it. MS. FERTIG: Yeah. Okay.

MR. JABOUIN: Thank you, Ms. Murtha, Ms.

Manlove and Ms. Wallace.

Do we have David Luker, Matt Blondell and kids. That would be great, but I don't -- and I also don't necessarily agree that a family counselor assigned to the school would have the necessary training to deal with some of these kids. I've -- I was a guardian ad litem for seven years and in some of these, some of the kids, and, of course, they were in schools and things were happening, it was so difficult to find somebody that could actually help the child with the issues that they may have. So that might be a pie-in-the-sky, you know, thing that we're asking for the district to do. I don't think you ignore it, but I don't know that you can find it either. Sorry.

MR. MEDVIN: Do you have anything else, Mr. Jabouin?

MR. JABOUIN: Thank you, Ms. Murtha. Thank you, Ms. Wallace. And thank you, Ms. Manlove.

MS. FERTIG: Can I just make one comment? I know that some of the things that we asked are probably going to be hard to track, but just overall on looking at how we're doing with the number of high level threats and all, I mean, that's a numerical. What the threat is may not be, but are we seeing an increase in threats?

Chris Gums on?

MR. BLONDELL: Hi, Joris. Excuse me, this is Matt Blondell from RSM.

MR. JABOUIN: Good morning. Good afternoon. So we do, as you recall, RSM discussed The Big 3 projects. There is a document that is within this agenda item that hopefully you've read, and if you have any questions of them, they're on the line.

Please speak, state your name before speaking. Thank you.

MS. FERTIG: I have a couple of points that we didn't discuss last time.

Just a couple of requests, if possible. I would ask that you review what projects were funded in the five-year capital plan at the time that the board undertook this process. And I'm just going to use an example of Northeast roofs had been funded for many years and were ready to be done and then taken off. And there were a couple of major projects at Blanche Ely. So I would just ask that you capture what they were planning to do and then what happened from that point. Done, not done, whatever. Okay? And how many years they had been on the capital plan.

And my other request, and I see you have it in here, you're talking about looking at Castaldi, but I would ask that you research whether the FCI approach that was adopted by the board at the time for evaluating projects was really the appropriate method to use. And Castaldi looks at programatic as well as facility condition and is what the State of Florida recommends and I'm just wondering, I know we had questions in 2014, so --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I just want clear up the FCI thing, but I had a question about the prior item before we launch into this. And the answer may have just walked out the door.

Well, the person that was here said she was task assigned manager. There's an executive director and then a manager. I was just kind of curious why we would have a task assigned manager. Did the prior one leave?

DR. WANZA: I can answer that. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Oh, good.

DR. WANZA: Valerie Wanza. I know you need it for the record; right? So what I will say is the current manager is on approved leave and I do not want to violate any other HIPAA violations,

Page 131

MR. DE MEO: Okay. I'll try to be really brief.

Are you going -- this is directed to RSM. Are you going to review the grand jury recommendations and incorporate them in your procedures? If not, I'd like to recommend that.

MR. JABOUIN: There is a separate project the superintendent is working on that is very grand jury focused, Mr. De Meo. It may be best to leave it under that direction.

MR. DE MEO: So why do we need this then? MR. JABOUIN: Well, this is geared -- there's still going to be control issues regarding this.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. I'll keep going then. The review of the school board meeting minutes, do you plan to include the board bond oversight committee minutes? If not, I'd recommend that vou do.

MS. FERTIG: As well as the minutes of the workshops in the summer of 2014.

MR. DE MEO: Right. And I would suggest that that be the very first thing that you do.

Next, do you plan on speaking to any of the former project managers and construction managers?

Page 130

but she's on approved leave.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. So there is a person this person's filling in for?

DR. WANZA: There is a person.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. Just curious.

DR. WANZA: Okay.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: And can we get RSM's, I'm not very auditory, it goes in one ear and out the next, I like to refer back to something written. Because everything they just said would have normally been written.

MR. MEDVIN: It was.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: But they expanded on what the motion responses were.

MS. FERTIG: I was just on the RSM and I --MR. JABOUIN: Which agenda item are we on? MS. FERTIG: She was going back to the RSM audit.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: The other RSM topic.

MR. JABOUIN: The behavioral threat

MR. DE MEO: I have some comments, some questions on the CMAR Big 3 project. Are we

MR. JABOUIN: Yes, we are.

Page 132

MR. BLONDELL: To the extent that they are available, yeah, we do intend to try to interview as many people as we can with direct knowledge of these projects; yes.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. And do you plan to speak to former Broward County School Board members or former employees or Former Superintendent Runcie?

MR. BLONDELL: Not former employees or members. That was not contemplated in this.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. I'd like you to include a well-articulated purposed statement for these procedures. Can you just give us a quick two-sentence purpose for this -- these procedures?

MR. BLONDELL: I think the first bullet point there would probably sum it up best, to conduct a comparative analysis of the deficiency listing from 2014 versus the executed scopes or work for design and construction professionals and the work performed and put in place for the construction of these projects.

MR. DE MEO: So the goal is to compare some of these items, is that the idea or --

MR. BLONDELL: Yes, sir, to understand the nuances of the decisions that were made regarding

MR. DE MEO: What type of engagement is this? Is this agreed upon procedures?

MR. BLONDELL: No, this is to be a performance audit.

MR. DE MEO: Will this be -- will you be expressing any conclusions or opinions?

MR. BLONDELL: We would not be expressing an opinion.

MR. DE MEO: So if it's not agreed upon procedures, what is this, a consulting engagement?

MR. BLONDELL: It would be considered a performance audit, as most of the other projects that we've been doing under the chief auditor's direction have been.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. I'm just going to throw this out here. I think perhaps the best thing to do, first step, first phase, would be to give us a timeline of all the work that was done and then compare that to the planned scope and the plans for this project -- for the bond and compare them, before you do anything else. Because I think that'll shed a lot of light on it. For mysteriously not interview anyone on the Facilities Task Force. But I would recommend that you pull every last piece of documentation that we have, which I will happily make available via link to OneDrive, because there's a wealth of information in terms of how things went wrong.

MR. DE MEO: And I think that's fine, but, honestly, I think we're going to waste a lot of time and money here, because this is just a wide-ranging, no -- no focus. The purpose, I'm not sure. I'm not sure of the type of engagement it is. It's a performance.

Look, let's get this timeline, let's look at the timeline of the work that's been done.

MS. FERTIG: Can I suggest a few additions to that?

MR. DE MEO: Yeah. And then let's compare and do nothing else. Bring that back and let us look at it.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Are you going to compare the time -- so in terms of schedule, because it is important to know which schedule we're talking about. So -- because if you compare schedules, now, since they've been re-baselined, they're going to tell you that everything's on schedule example, I've read where the construction didn't start until '18 or '19, four years later.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: That's average.

MR. DE MEO: Is that right?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Yes, because you've got to remember things were delayed getting procured for design, so right away everything was two to three years behind schedule.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. And we had a -- we had a -- somebody in charge, Mr. Bobadilla, or something; he's gone.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Derek Messier.

MS. FERTIG: We've had a number of people.

MR. DE MEO: Are we going to talk to these people or -- how -- what in the --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: It's all documented. In fact, I would suggest pulling every last piece of paper, recording, and I get very wary when I see, conduct interviews with key stakeholders as available to obtain an understanding of each project's history. Key stakeholders may include but are not limited to select board advisory committees. Because what that says to me is we're going to interview the BOC, who isn't going to be able to shed any light, and we're going to as it should be.

So what you have to look at is the first schedule that ever came out before it got messed with.

MR. DE MEO: Yeah, of course.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Okay. Just making sure, because you know where we are.

MS. FERTIG: Yeah. I mean, we have the superintendent and I'll give you the newspaper article, if you need it, saying exactly when Stranahan would be finished in a public meeting.

MR. DE MEO: Exactly. I'd like to see that.

MS. FERTIG: But -- but -- but could you add, because RSM did the original analysis of whatever, the grand jury report or whatever, and you recommended against using the CMAR contracts and this audit committee also made a recommendation against using those, I'd be interested in how many of those were used and what your analysis is at this point as to whether those were good, whether the revisions to that contract resulted in, you know, in making it okay to use that or whether something else should have

So I just would like to have them review the

MR. DE MEO: But isn't the purpose of this to figure out if The Big 3 were in some way neglected? I'll use a -- I won't use a scurrilous term, I'll say neglected.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I can tell you for free. Yes. We already know the answer. It's getting it officially said.

MR. DE MEO: What are we doing with this then?

MS. FERTIG: Well, I think there are some things we're doing. For example, I think that the method of identifying what needed to be done was flawed.

MR. DE MEO: That's nine years ago. Nine years ago.

MS. FERTIG: It was nine year ago. But, you know, amazingly, at the time they had reviewed, they had recommendations from, ironically, RSM about what should not be done and they did many of those things. But I want to know whether the fixes that were put in place supposedly to

there is value in doing this to help this district move to a point where they are no longer delaying projects at the schools that need them the most. And, quite frankly, they're going to find in this that the first schools finished were not those Big 3.

MR. JABOUIN: We have to wrap up.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: They're not. They were out west. The three that got to the front were all in a package in District 6.

But none of this stuff that's hard to determine. But in terms of The Big 3, the things that these -- the scope has to be able to ferret out are things like, what's the definition of roofing? Because at Stranahan roofing of the walkways, the covered walkways, are not being redone and some of the walkways are considered part of the roof square footage and they weren't

MS. FERTIG: And they were to be done. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: They were, but you have to get down to the granular level of the definition of roof. Because if you just say "roof" people are thinking what's on the building but some of them are part of the building and none of them correct the deficiencies they had noted before corrected the deficiencies.

MR. DE MEO: Did the grand jury report address any of this?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No.

MS. FERTIG: The bond or the --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Well, they got into the bond, but --

MR. DE MEO: Board members were removed.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: They could look at the grand jury report. The district can't because the district's initial review of grand jury observations, they didn't even know what they meant, much less be able to competently respond to them.

MR. DE MEO: I've got to tell you, I can't speak for RSM, but I think we're putting them in a position that they couldn't possibly deliver on what we're asking. It's -- we already know the answers to every one of these questions.

MS. FERTIG: Well, they can -- say they were to look at what was in the capital plans at those three big schools at the time that they came up with the scope and something was left out, then that gives us something to -- I mean, I think were done and I have a person that's reporting to me that all of main street is leaking and that's -- that's because none of them were done because if you look on top of the walkways, what's up top, utilities, all sorts of lines that nobody wanted to pay to redo. And that was brought to our attention, ironically, by ML, who had taken pictures and showed us the Stranahan roof, that this was not being redone, and some of the reasons, you can think what you want about ML, but she was concerned that they had reduced the roofing scope.

So roofing scope at Stranahan needs to be examined. And if this won't get us to looking at the roofing scope, then that's a problem.

And Blanche Ely, in terms of scope, if you renovate, what does renovate mean? Because they have crappy tiles that weren't replaced in the locker room at Blanche Ely that weren't in the SMART scope.

MR. JABOUIN: Time has run out. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: And then one of my favorites, there's life safety issues and electrical. If we're looking at specific things, like equity in life safety, was the scope the same in terms of roofing, life safety, electrical? Because there's switchgear that they couldn't assess at Blanche Ely because apparently the principal wouldn't grant them access and then that became an additional funding item down the road when they finally got there. I think it predates AECOM.

MR. DE MEO: I'd like to know how much this is going to cost, too, because --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Right, because I don't -- to his point, I don't think we did get a price; did we; last time?

MR. DE MEO: Well, they have to develop the procedures. But I don't want them going unlimited, going through -- I can give you the conclusion.

MR. JABOUIN: They're not.

MR. DE MEO: Let's see. Government is sometimes corrupt, usually inefficient and there were a lot of mistakes made here.

Page 143

MR. DE MEO: And the comparison of the budget. They're over $400 million over the budget. We don't need RSM to tell us that.

MR. JABOUIN: No, we don't.

MS. FERTIG: Do you want us to put in writing these things? Because I really would like them to review those projects that were in the capital plan at the beginning of this.

MR. JABOUIN: Let me just get confirmation from Mr. Blondell. Did you catch what Ms. Fertig said as far as looking at the projects in the capital plan?

MR. BLONDELL: I did not.

MR. JABOUIN: Okay. Then I will communicate that to you.

MR. DE MEO: I'm going to defer to the other, my colleagues on the committee, but --

MR. JABOUIN: No vote is needed on this.

MR. DE MEO: Oh, okay.

MR. JABOUIN: They're going to proceed with the projects because we need to get the work done. And so I'm glad we were able to have a discussion on that.

MR. DE MEO: I hope this -- we're going to have -- the funding for this, the cost of this

Page 142

MR. JABOUIN: Mr. De Meo, we've got to wrap up, unfortunately.

MR. DE MEO: Okay. No charge. There's the report.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I'm not going to disagree.

MR. JABOUIN: So RSM is taking, they've received comments from a lot of different committees here. They're going to go ahead and process them and try to incorporate the comments here. Those that they can't address now, it's going to be part of their strategy. Because some of these things can't just be done in one snapshot.

So the original plan was to look at those Big 3 schools. That's still on the table. They're going to go ahead and incorporate as much as they can. They'll let you know what they can and when they're going to. Because you may not be able to do all of this in one audit.

MR. DE MEO: The trouble with The Big 3 is, if The Big 3 was neglected in favor of others we won't know that if you only focus on The Big 3. I'd like to see the timeline in the original plan and just show that to us and then, you know --

MS. FERTIG: And a comparison of the budget.

will also be something that RSM will let us know when they come with the procedures; right?

MR. JABOUIN: Oh, sure. I mean, every cost that goes through here is well-known.

MS. FERTIG: And don't forget the --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: The bond's over budget, people.

MR. JABOUIN: We do have to go.

MR. MEDVIN: Dr. Lynch-Walsh?

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Yes. Design standards, I'm scrolling through here. So I have to review -- oh, yeah, it is on my list.

So regardless of what happens with this, because I'm tying to make sure that everything that was on the FTF list, the people that, actually, are, you know, painfully aware of what wasn't done, and we talked about destructive testing, design standards, I see SREF, let's see --

MR. JABOUIN: It's all there. And the ones that are not there, there's a reason why they're not.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: What is the reason for not having design standards?

MR. JABOUIN: We've taken the advisory

MR. JABOUIN: It's advisory comments.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I'm sorry, I have the floor. Why do you have such a hard time? I have the floor.

MR. JABOUIN: Ask your question. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: It's not a question. I'm explaining. So when the board -- when people take creative license with things like, forget SREF for a minute, the district's education specifications means that not everybody gets the same quality or quantity when it comes to, say, a media center, a cafeteria, any kind of space. The same with design standards. So what a media center in one place that has a certain board member could have gotten a very different media center somewhere else, or any other space, but, also, classroom -- so classroom size, the size of classrooms if we have new buildings. So design standards, SREF is just what's required by the state. The district and changing and looking to

We know the answer, but I think having it in writing from an auditor is more important than what we say, so --

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: So the Castaldi process incorporates FCIs, they just didn't use -- they didn't take the next step.

MS. FERTIG: Right.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: They stopped at the condition but didn't look at whether -- if the answer was it's more cost effective to replace it, we didn't -- we didn't go there because it would have never been 800 million, it would have been like two and a half billion.

MS. FERTIG: I still would like to see that.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: No, no, I'm not disagreeing with you. I'm saying, absolutely, it would be interesting to see how much it would have cost to just replace.

MS. FERTIG: Because The Big 3 -- two of The Big 3 were supposed to be replaced, so I think that's like a critical question.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Yeah. No, I'm sure that when we look at how much we're spending now it would have been cheaper to replace. I have no doubt. And once, again, we know the answer.

see if consistency was applied in terms of the district's EdSpecs and design and material standards is another thing that's important. And design and material standards also gets to roofing.

So to take that out means somebody's taking something out that they shouldn't be, if that's not in here, and I don't see it. I see SREF and I see -- actually, I don't know what Florida Department of Education Specifications, unless we're talking Florida building code. So this list needs to be revised and so that -- again, to Mr. De Meo's point, they could be looking at things that aren't the right places to be looking.

MS. FERTIG: Well, I'd like to see them review what would have happened if they had used a Castaldi analysis instead of FCI and determined whether they could have saved money on building from scratch rather than renovations, and whether, in fact, the long-term impact, and I think this is really important, of having renovated some of those building, so they're not going to get rebuilt and they're not programatically satisfactory is going to cost us.

MR. MEDVIN: Okay. Anything else for RSM? MR. JABOUIN: Thank you RSM. Thank you very much RSM.

MR. BLONDELL: Thank you.

MS. FERTIG: Motion to adjourn? Can I do that? Because you said we had to leave.

MR. MEDVIN: Nathalie had her hand up.

MS. DAHL: And I have to go to the bathroom. DR. LYNCH-WALSH: I do, too. I'll be right behind you.

I'm not sure why AECOM and Atkins were asked to be here because -- I don't know. But thanks for coming. I like the pink.

MS. DAHL: Are you the next meeting?
MS. LANGAN: No. No, we were asked to be here.

MS. FERTIG: Well, that's good that you were here though. If you disagree with us you'll let us know; right?

MS. LANGAN: I mean, we're doing a lot of this already within our contract.

DR. LYNCH-WALSH: Their contract because we learned from the old contract.

I just want to bring it to the Chair's attention that I asked about -- I sent Mr.
