About us

Cambridge International Examinations prepares school students for life, helping them develop an informed curiosity and a lasting passion for learning. We are part of Cambridge Assessment, a department of the University of Cambridge.

Our international qualifications are recognised by the world's best universities and employers, giving students a wide range of options in their education and career. As a not-for-profit organisation, we devote our resources to delivering high-quality educational programmes that can unlock learners' potential.

Welcome to the Cambridge AICE Diploma

The Cambridge Advanced International Certificate of Education (AICE) Diploma is an international curriculum and examination system that emphasises the value of broad and balanced study. It is part of our Cambridge Advanced stage, which is typically for learners aged 16 to 19 years who need advanced study for university.

Providing a structured approach to building skills critical to success for further education, the Cambridge AICE Diploma demands mastery of a variety of subjects from three different groups: Mathematics and Sciences, Languages, Arts and Humanities, plus a compulsory core subject, Cambridge International AS Level Global Perspectives & Research.

Learners can also gain credit from a fourth group: Interdisciplinary subjects. The Cambridge AICE Diploma was first awarded in 1997 and has since become popular with a range of schools in different parts of the world. It includes the 'gold standard' Cambridge International AS & A Level qualifications, and offers students the opportunity to tailor their studies to their individual interests, abilities and future plans within an international curriculum framework. Alongside an in-depth understanding of their subjects, students working towards the Cambridge AICE Diploma also need to master a broad range of skills critical for success in university study and employment.

“ One of the things we find with students who have studied Cambridge International AS & A Levels is that they have a real depth of understanding of the subject matter that they have had classes in, and a real engagement with it. ”

Stuart Schmill, Dean of Admissions, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), USA

The Cambridge AICE Diploma curriculum

The Cambridge AICE Diploma draws on the extensive range of Cambridge International AS & A Level subjects.

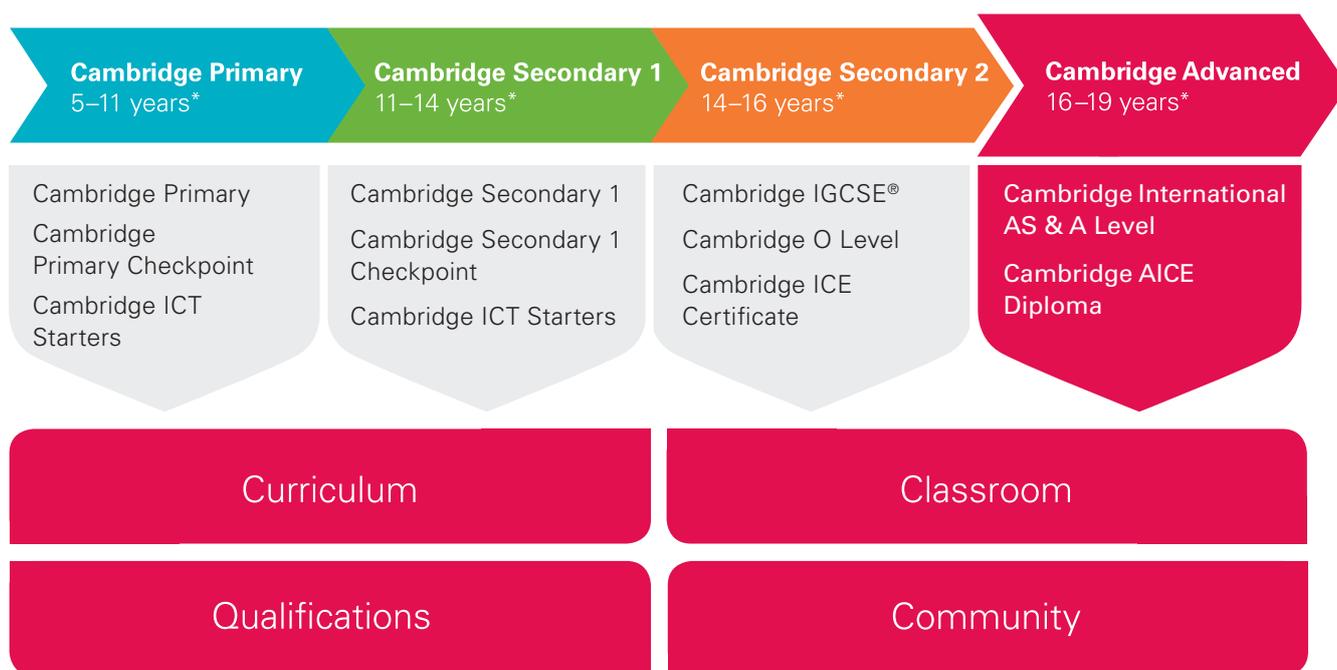

Cambridge International AS & A Level

Cambridge International A Level has been offered by Cambridge International Examinations for over 50 years and is widely recognised for entry into higher education. Cambridge International A Levels are also important to employers as an indication of the quality of potential recruits into the workplace.

Cambridge International AS Level was introduced to provide greater flexibility through an optional staged assessment taken at the midpoint of a Cambridge International A Level programme (typically after one year). Cambridge International AS Level can also be taken as a qualification in its own right to complement other subjects being studied to increase breadth in the curriculum.

Cambridge International AS & A Level qualifications are recognised by universities as being equivalent in value to UK AS & A Levels.

In countries such as the United States and Canada, good grades in carefully chosen Cambridge International A Level subjects can result in up to one year of university course credit.

Age ranges are for guidance only*

Cambridge Global Perspectives at the heart of the Diploma

To achieve the Diploma, all learners will need to study and pass the Cambridge International AS Level Global Perspectives & Research (9239).

This skills-based course challenges learners to think critically, analyse evidence and compare perspectives. The learning is assessed through a team project and presentation as well as a written examination.

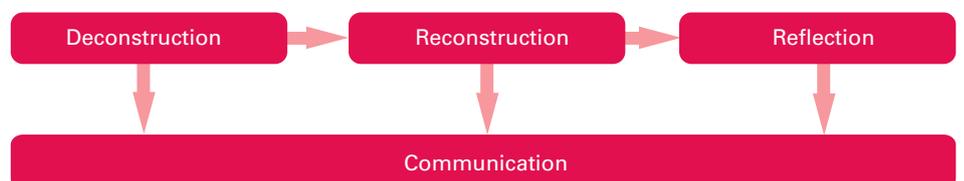

Cambridge International AS Level Global Perspectives & Research is built around an innovative teaching and learning process called the critical path. This supports learners to think critically and objectively, leading to a deeper understanding of their chosen topic.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) praises the educational values of Cambridge Global Perspectives, saying that its values are similar to those of MIT, which are:

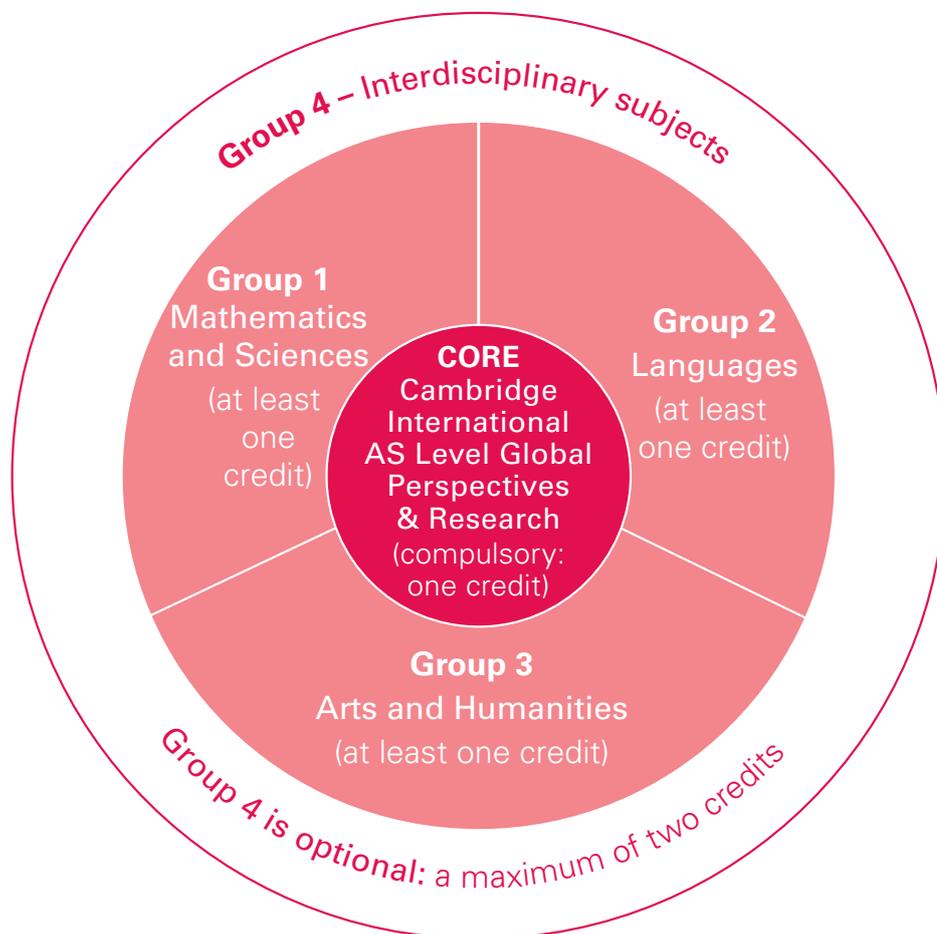

- deep understanding with depth and rigour
- problem solving, critical thinking, creativity, teamwork, independent learning and effective communication
- promoting an international outlook and cross-cultural awareness.

The critical path

Cambridge AICE Diploma credits

The Cambridge AICE Diploma offers breadth across the curriculum and depth in selected subjects.

The remaining credits can come from any of the groups. A maximum of two credits can count from Group 4. A Cambridge International AS Level is awarded one credit, and a Cambridge International A Level is awarded two credits. The following combinations of credits are valid for the Diploma:

This is only allowed where this combination gives a learner their best overall outcome.

When a learner's best overall outcome is achieved through a combination of Cambridge International A Level Global Perspectives & Research and three Cambridge International A Levels, this will be allowed even though it equates to eight credits. The maximum number of points a learner can be awarded is 420.

Assessment

Cambridge International AS & A Level examination series occur twice a year, in June and November, with results issued in August and January respectively. In India only, we offer a March exam series with results issued in May.

Cambridge International A Level uses a wide range of assessment processes and techniques to supplement formal written examinations – orals, practicals, projects and coursework of various types are all used in various subjects where they are the most effective and appropriate means of measuring attainment.

Cambridge International A Level subjects are graded from A* to E. Cambridge International AS Level subjects are graded A to E. There is no A* grade awarded at Cambridge International AS Level. The Cambridge AICE Diploma is awarded on a points system, so each grade is converted to a number of points as shown in the table below.

Grade A* is awarded 140 points, however the maximum number of Cambridge AICE Diploma points is capped at 420.

Two credits study (A Levels)		One credit study (AS Levels)
Grade	Points	Grade	Points
A*	140	–	–

B	100	B	50
C	80	C	40

Learners who meet the requirements of the group award will receive a Cambridge AICE Diploma at one of three levels: Pass, Merit or Distinction. The level awarded is based on the overall Cambridge AICE Diploma score.

Cambridge AICE Diploma with Distinction: awarded to students with a score of 360 points or above. The maximum Diploma score is 420 points.

Cambridge AICE Diploma with Merit: awarded to students with between 250 and 359 points.

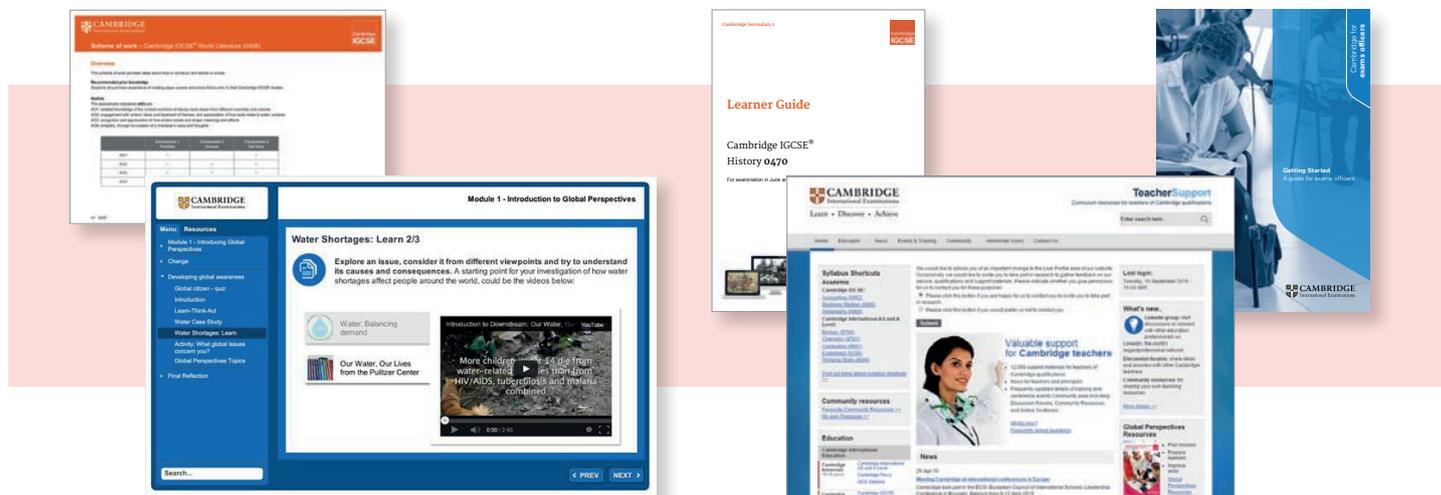

Cambridge AICE Diploma at Pass level: awarded to students with between 140 and 249 points.

Learners who do not meet the requirements of the group award will receive certificates for their individual subjects.
